TARIFF FIGHT LEAVES LIBERALS DEPLETED

In Order to Carry Budget Proposals Premier King Bought Support of Progressives at Sacrifice of Many of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Talented Old Guard —Supporters Admit Party Badly Shattered

Unique Situation of Minority Political Bloc

OTTAWA, May 16.—The day after the tariff fight finds a depleted and depressed party on the government benches, with the Progressive auxiliary forces wondering if they sacrificed independence and principle for an illusionary recompense. From the Liberal party have gone the men who redeemed it from complete mediocrity. It is the loss of men of such character and reputation rather than in reduction in number that has dealt a death blow to the King government.

First in importance is the defection of Sir Lomer Gouin, who for a quarter of a century has been first in the Liberal ranks of Quebec, both federal and provincial, with the exception of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He had the confidence of English and French, farmer and manufacturer, Protestant and Catholic, in that province, and without the province had a national reputation for sanity, moderation and sound judgment. So keenly did the government feel Sir Lomer's defection that the Liberal whips sought to secure his unconscious adhesion to the party by concealing his request of a week ago for the cancellation of his pair with Dr. Tolmie.

Almost equally disastrous was the defection of Hon. Walter Mitchell, former Treasurer of Quebec, and who was brought into the Federal House as the successor of Hon. W. S. Fielding. Mr. Mitchell's condemnation by his resignation came with startling and dramatic effect. As the House opened for the last stage of the tariff contest the Speaker read his resignation. Every inducement had been offered Mr. Mitchell to swallow the budget, and the Government thought their attempts had been successful.

F. N. McCrea, Sherbrooke, a stalwart Liberal, a former supporter of reciprocity, one of the leading business men in Canada, broke with his colleagues in terms that were emphatically distinctive. H. H. Marler, the hope of English Liberalism in Quebec, and one of the coming men in Parliament, tore his party's policies to shreds and denounced his leader as a violator of his pledge and a betrayer of his friends.

In Ontario few men stand higher than W. D. Euler, North Waterloo, in ability first in the Liberal representation from that Province. He represents Premier King's native constituency, and the same through which he entered Parliament. W. G. Raymond, Brantford, is one of the most cultured men in Parliament, and one of the few Blake-Mowatt Liberals left in the Liberal party under Premier King.

SAANICH WILL PAY SHARE FOR AVENUE

STRING IS ATTACHED TO OFFER MADE, HOWEVER

Municipal Council Reaffirms Refusal to Consider Juvenile Court This Year

Reeve Macnicol was authorized by the Saanich Council last night to sign a cheque for $800, being the Saanich share in the proposed expenditure of $2,400 on the Memorial Avenue this year. The Reeve will contribute the cheque to the fund in charge of the Memorial Avenue committee, providing the balance of the twenty-four hundred is supplied immediately and work started at once.

Haste, it was pointed out by Councillor Vantreight, is imperative, because in two weeks' time the ground which it is proposed to plow will be so hardened by the sun that it will be useless to attempt to work it. The area is covered in places with a heavy growth of klootch grass, the councillor for Ward Three said, and the only way to kill it permanently was to plow it under while the ground was soft, and then Spring harrow the soil. Unless the work was done immediately, he considered the money spent would be wasted, and if the committee was not prepared to go ahead, he would suggest that the work be delayed until next March.

Juvenile Court

The oft-appearing question of a juvenile court for Victoria and surrounding municipalities was again brought up for discussion, when a copy of a letter written by the Victoria Council to the Attorney-General was read. The letter stated that Victoria Council was prepared to contribute its quota of money to establish the court providing the municipalities of Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt would also pay in their shares.

"Victoria is merely shifting its responsibility," Reeve Macnicol charged. "The action of the Council is nothing but a nicely hedged bluff. They knew when they made their decision that Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt had already declined to contribute to the establishment of the court this year. We have no money to give, even if we wanted to support it."

Councillor Kirkham suggested that the question be referred to the health and morals committee, and Councillor Hagan proposed a six months' holst. "The juvenile court committee came before the Saanich Council with a reduced cost proposition, but that was only to get it started; once established and up would go the costs," he concluded.

On motion by Councillors Robertshaw and Graham, the Council reaffirmed its former decision, not to contribute to the plan this year.

Mr. Coolidge Leads

PORTLAND, May 16.—Returns from 365 precincts out of 1,763 in Oregon give preference for the Republican nomination for President Coolidge 20,998, Johnson 5,953.

NEW YORK'S POLICE FORCE RULES BY DIVINE RIGHT

MONTREAL, May 16.—That there were Irish in New York before Columbus ever saw the Western Land and that about the year 1000 A. D. all of the coast of America from Nova Scotia down to the Florida coast was known as "Ireland the Great" was the statement made here tonight at a meeting of the Antiquarian and Numismatic Society by Rev. Father Devine, well-known Canadian antiquarian. Father Devine said there were maps of Europe recently reproduced which show this continent prior to 1492, while records in the Vatican indicate that there were bishops, churches and nunneries in Greenland before the time of Columbus.

SIR THOMAS WHITE OPENS HIS DEFENCE

FORMER MINISTER QUOTES LAW AS TO OFFICIAL DUTIES

Points Out Motion of Order-in-Council Appointing Commission on Home Bank Is Ultra Vires

OTTAWA, May 16.—Sir Thomas White, former Minister of Finance, who, it is claimed by counsel for depositors of the Home Bank, showed negligence in not ordering an independent investigation of that institution, opened his reply to criticism levelled against him this afternoon before Royal Commissioner H. A. McKeown.

Sir Thomas raised one point on the constitutional aspect of the case which may have an important bearing on the finding of the commissioner. He submitted that the portion of the order-in-council which authorized the commissioner to pronounce as to whether or not an investigation into the Home Bank by the Minister was justified, is ultra vires of the executive government of Canada. He asked the commissioner to find that this was the case.

Within Minister's Discretion

In support of this point of view, the former Finance Minister laid down the principle that the question of whether or not an auditor should have been placed in the Home Bank was entirely within the discretion of the Minister of Finance. The Minister of Finance was responsible only to Parliament and his decisions were not subject to review by any other tribunal, provided they were always honestly made. Would it be seri-

PREMIER OLIVER TIES FREIGHT TO CAMPAIGN

Tells Citizens of Royal City of Three New Appeals for Reductions in Prevailing Rates

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 16.—Premier Oliver this evening tied the freight rate issue firmly to his election appeal with the announcement of three new applications for rate reductions.

"Before the election I intend to make application to the railway board for another reduction in export grain rates, for another reduction of domestic grain rates, and for equalization of express rates throughout Canada," declared the Premier to a big audience after an exhaustive review of the whole transportation situation in the Province.

Meiva Whiton, Toronto, will represent the employers, and Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, will represent the employees of Canada at the conference. R. W. Craig, K.C., Winnipeg, has been appointed advisor to the Government delegates.

NEW "TIPPING" DISCOVERED IN GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, May 16.—The Island of Great Britain is tipping eastward, and has tilted several feet in that direction with the past three hundred years, according to announcement made by C. H. J. Clayton to the Society of Engineers. A study of the east coast history, he said, goes to support the theory that the island is tilting, and a good deal of what is called "erosion" may be as much due to the rapid alteration of the levels of the sea and lands as to other causes.

MAY 24 PROGRAMME MAY BE CURTAILED

NEARLY $4,000 MORE NECESSARY FOR CELEBRATIONS

Queen Contest Extended to Monday to Allow Public Chance to Make Competition Successful

Instead of ending the May queen contest at six o'clock tonight, as first intended, the Victoria Day celebration committee yesterday decided to extend the period for receiving votes until 6 p.m. Monday. This step was taken in order to allow the people of Victoria to subscribe between $3,000 and $4,000 more to the funds of the competition. Unless they do so, the May queen competition will be a failure, and the May 24 programme will have to be curtailed in radical manner.

"We need practically $4,000 more," said Mr. C. B. Sylvester, managing secretary of the celebration, yesterday. "The people of the city have not been supporting the May queen contest, and we have managed to secure only about $2,000 from it so far. We have decided to extend it to Monday night to give citizens a chance to make up the balance on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. If they do not do so, it simply will mean that we shall not have the money to put on the celebrations we planned, and the programme will have to be changed. The parade will have to be cut down, and expense saved in every possible way. We cannot have an $8,000 programme when we only have $3,000 or $4,000 with which to do it."

On Monday night, at eight o'clock, with the contest at an end, the five queens will appear at the Capitol Theatre, and start the competition for the $1,000 money prizes at stake in the queen contest. Sixty numbers will be drawn from a bowl, and the holders of the purchased ballots with numbers corresponding to those drawn will then be required to guess the amount of money obtained in the jar now displayed in the window of Messrs. David Spencer & Co. One thousand dollars in cash will be distributed among the winners of this guessing contest.

The standing of the queens yesterday was as follows: Miss Wormald, 110,000; Miss Jewell, 100,000; Miss McAllister, 36,000; Miss Barker, 35,000, and Miss Streeter, 30,000.

SUN ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

Official Dispatch to the U.S. Peking Legation States South China Ruler Makes Rapid Recovery

CABINET FULLY BELIEVED IN THE REPORTED DEATH

College Professor's Condolences Sent Mrs. Sun Received Fitting Reply From Supposed Widow

PEKING, May 16.—Sun Yat Sen, South China leader, whose death was reported and apparently confirmed, is alive and on the road to a rapid recovery, according to an official telegram received today by the American Legation. Similar messages were also received by the Japanese Legation. The Chinese newspapers believed so firmly in the demise of Dr. Sun that they published lengthy obituaries of him, in addition to numerous editorials commenting on his passing. The cabinet even was reported to have discussed the bestowal of posthumous honors on the Canton ruler, reports from seemingly authentic sources having been received of his death.

Condolences Were Too Previous

MACON, Ga., May 16.—In response to a message of condolence to Mrs. Sun Yat Sen, Dr. W. F. Quillian president of Wesleyan College, tonight received a cablegram from her stating that Dr. Sun is not dead. Dr. Sun's wife, Chung Ling Soong, was educated at Wesleyan.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, President of the South China Republic, whose death has been reported and denied, was officially held a citizen of the United States in 1904, by a ruling from George B. Cortelyou, then Secretary of Commerce and Labor, according to records found today in the office of the Bureau of Immigration here.

WOULD USE BEER MONEY FOR BABIES

HON. T. G. COVENTRY SLATES DEAL WITH BREWERS

Conservative Candidate in Saanich Declares Opponent Had Time to Carry Out Platform

Charging that the $250,000 which the brewers of the Province will receive from the Oliver Government through the retroactive increase in beer prices will this year be nothing more nor less than a Liberal campaign fund, Hon. T. G. Coventry, Conservative candidate in Saanich constituency, drew forth cheers last night when he advocated the turning over of this sum next year for maternity benefits. Over 100 residents were present.

"Are babies worth more to us than brewers?" Hon. Mr. Covsntry asked, in suggesting that the state should contribute towards the cost of maternity cases. "There are eleven brewers in the Province. They have done well and their dividends are good. Many a young married couple, after paying out money for doctors' and other costs in connection with maternity cases, are left up against it, and have great difficulty in getting on to a good financial footing. Wouldn't it be a good thing if this sum which is being handed to the brewers were employed in maternity benefits?"

Hon. Mr. Coventry scored his opponent's inactivity in respect to the industrial development of Saanich, which, he said, was Hon. Mr. Pauline's principal platform cry. Mr. Pauline had been a member of the Legislature for Saanich riding for the past eight years, and a candidate for ten years, and had not brought one industry into the district, he stated, although

AMERICAN FLIERS REACH KURILES

Three United States Army Aeroplanes Land on Japanese Island of Paramashiru, Having Safely Made Longest Jump in Their World-Circling Itinerary—French Flier Awarded Military Medal—Britisher Reaches Calcutta From Allahabad

PARAMASHIRU ISLAND, Kuriles, May 17.—The three United States army fliers arrived here this morning at 11:35 o'clock from Attu Island, the Aleutians, on their flight around the world.

The difference in time between Attu Island and Paramashiru is about fifteen hours. The time of the fliers departure from Attu has not been learned. Figuring from the time of their arrival at Paramashiru—11:35 a.m. (Saturday)—and the probable flying time of between six and seven hours, it is believed the aviators must have hopped off at Attu some time before noon Friday. The distance is figured at 878 miles.

ABOARD U.S. COASTGUARD CUTTER HAIDA, May 16.—(By Wireless to the Associated Press, Via Cordova, Alaska.)—Three army planes left Attu Island today for Paramashiru Island on a flight around the earth. The planes were expected to reach Paramashiru Island, which is in the Kuriles chain at the northern end of the Japanese Empire, between 3 and 5 o'clock this afternoon. This course of the fliers, the longest in the 27,000 miles of the route laid down for them, was 878 miles across the Bering Sea.

From Attu, the pilots laid their course for Cape Kronatski, on the Kamchatka Peninsula, 611 miles from Attu. From Kronatski they intended to fly southward along the Peninsula, the distance from Kronatski to Paramashiru being put at 267 miles.

PARIS, May 16.—Lieutenant Pelletier D'Oisy, French aviator, flying from Paris to Tokio, today was promoted to a captaincy. Sergeant Besin, who is D'Oisy's mechanic, was awarded the military medal. The fliers reached Hanoi, Indo-China, Tuesday night, covering the distance from Paris to that place in seventy-four hours, flying time.

SHANGHAI, May 16.—Stuart MacLaren, British airman attempting to circle the world, arrived today at Calcutta from Allahabad, according to a dispatch received here.

MacLaren flew from Allahabad to Calcutta in six hours.

FOREST FIRES SWEEPING OVER LARGE SECTIONS OF TERRITORY

Transmission Line of West Kootenay Company Burned Out Near Birchbank, Closing Down Trail Smelter and Town and Rossland in Darkness—Outbreak Raging at Seymour Narrows

Clearwater Valley Filled With Many Bush Fires

Edmonton Reports Towns in North Country Endangered by Proximity of Conflagrations and Settlers Fighting Against Spread—Skies in Prairie Provinces Take on Smoky Haze

NELSON, May 16.—The forest fire burning on Murphy Creek, near Birchbank, on the Rossland branch, cut the transmission line of the West Kootenay Power and Light Company this afternoon, shutting down the Trail smelter and leaving Trail and Rossland without light.

VANCOUVER, May 16.—According to advices received at the Provincial forestry offices here this morning, a bush fire is raging in the vicinity of Seymour Narrows and which has spread over an area of sixty acres. The fire was reported to be raging fiercely, but was being fought by the members of a nearby logging camp. The bush fire which has been burning for the past three days at Stillwater is now being held and the danger of spreading to valuable timber limits averted.

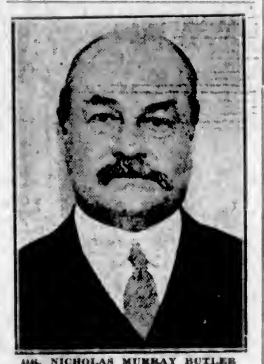

SPOKANE, May 16.—Three hundred men were fighting fires today in the vicinity of Priest River, Idaho, where three thousand acres of timber land has been burned over on the west branch of the Priest River, and 300 acres of green timber has been destroyed on the other side of the stream.

Raging in North Country

EDMONTON, May 16. — Forest fires continue to rage in the North country, according to reports reaching here. The valley of the Clearwater River, is filled with bush fires and fears are entertained for the heavy stands of spruce timber which line the river. On Thursday residents of Thorhild had to exert every effort to save their town, flames coming to within a few hundred yards of the settlement before being checked. More than one hundred men are fighting fires in the White Court area, and there is no indication of any slackening of the menace. On Thursday fires jumped the Macleod River five times, and it is understood the Athabasca River has been crossed. Communication with the north bank of the river has been cut off by the flames. Information reaching the city late yesterday reports several farmhouses and barns in the Grande Prairie country destroyed.

Smoky Haze

WINNIPEG, May 16.—A peculiar smoky haze, which has been general throughout Saskatchewan and parts of Alberta during the past two days, has now enveloped Manitoba and appears to be moving eastward. Local officials of the Dominion meteorological bureau, while somewhat puzzled advanced the belief that the condition is purely atmospheric and probably caused by extremely low atmospheric pressure which at present prevails over the Western provinces. The heavy pall which overcasts the sky, they point out, would thus be traced to heavy atmospheric pressure such as smoke from the prairie fires in Alberta and Northern Saskatchewan.

WILL SEARCH FOR LEAK IN SAANICH WATER MAIN

Saanich municipality has been losing vast quantities of water either through a leakage in one of the water mains or through a defective metre, it was stated at last night's meeting of the Saanich council, and the engineer was instructed to start a complete inspection of the mains today.

The wastage was discovered when the figures showing the water sold by Saanich last month were compared to figures representing the quantity with which the municipality was charged.

MORE BRANCH LINES PASSED BY HOUSE

LEGISLATORS RESUME WORK AFTER LONG SESSION

Conservative Objections Made of Dealing With National Roads' Extension Voted Down

OTTAWA, May 16.—After a brief period of rest, following the all-night budget sitting, the House of Commons, in committee of supply, today considered estimates of the Department of Agriculture. A somewhat acrimonious discussion developed in regard to the dismissal of Dr. Torrance, a former official of the health of animals branch of the Department, when an item of two millions of dollars for this branch came before the Commons.

Amendments from the Conservative opposition calling on the government to place the amounts required for branch line construction in the estimates met defeat. The bill providing for construction of an extension from Grande Fresniere to Rinfret Junction was passing through the committee stage when the first amendment was moved by Sir Henry Drayton.

Mr. Graham Objects

Hon. G. P. Graham objected to the amendment, saying that votes for railway construction had hitherto gone through in the form of a bill. The amendment was lost on a standing vote of 65 to 11, and the bill was reported and given third reading.

On bill 33, respecting the construction of a Canadian National Railways line, Kamloops-Kelowna division, British Columbia, Sir Henry Drayton said that he would move the same amendment requiring the guarantees to be placed annually in the estimates but that he was willing to have it declared "lost on division, the whole Conservative Party voting against and the United Grit Party voting unanimously in favor of it."

The amendment was then declared lost and the bill given a third reading.

SUIT RECALLS DEATH OF JOSEPH MARTIN

Life Insurance of Deceased Lawyer Subject of Litigation Before Vancouver Court

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Recalling the death of Joseph Martin, K.C., on March 2, 1923, a trial has opened in Supreme Court before Chief Justice Hunter, in which rival claims were advanced to proceeds of a $5,000 insurance policy on the life of the deceased.

The claimants are the Standard Trusts Co., administrator of the Joseph Martin estate, and Mrs. Isabel Linton.

The insurance is payable by the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, which has interpleaded.

The policy was taken out by the late Mr. Martin in August, 1900, with the Federal Life Insurance Co., and was assumed by the Sun company in 1915. Originally in favor of his wife, Elisabeth, the assured, following her death in 1913, in 1920 assigned the benefits of the policy to Mrs. Linton. The assignment reads that it was given as security for loans from Mrs. Linton and from Miss Kathleen Rae, now Mrs. Kathleen Churchill, but the latter has renounced any claim.

Mr. Martin had borrowed $1,215 on the policy and the amount payable by the Sun company is $3,772.

STRONG FEELING AGAINST OTTAWA

FLEET RECEPTION COMMITTEE DENOUNCES LACK OF AID

Work Seriously Hampered by Scarcity of Money—Men Will Make Excursion on C.N.R.

Feeling against the Ottawa Government because of its refusal to contribute to the funds of the British Special Service Squadron Entertainment Committee ran high at a meeting of the executive of that body held last night, with Mayor Hayward in the chair.

The Federal authorities were denounced in strong terms.

It was obvious from the reports of the chairmen of the various committees that their work of preparing for the entertainment of the visiting sailors is seriously hampered by lack of money.

Mayor Hayward and delegates from veterans' organizations reported unavailing attempts to induce the Federal Government to reconsider its decision.

Plans to bring school children from Island cities to Victoria to see the battleships had to be jettisoned from the programme last night principally because of the lack of the requisite money.

In the emergency created by the Government's refusal to contribute to the funds, it was suggested by several members of the executive that a plea

TRUMPETERS SUGGEST FILLING FLOWING BOWL

Republican Guard Buglers Greet Abyssinian Regent in Paris With Joyful Music

PARIS, May 16.—Ras Taraffi, Prince Regent of Abyssinia, was received today with honors given to any visiting European sovereign when he arrived from the south of France for his visit to Paris. President Millerand and Premier Poincare were there to welcome him, while population which knows no color line gave an enthusiastic greeting to the swarthy potentate, clad in white silk with head uncovered, and wearing the grand cordon of the Legion of Honor.

The Prince Regent was welcomed by the trumpeters of the Republican Guard playing the tune of the old English song, "Come, Landlord, Fill the Flowing Bowl."

France's guest is a Christian Prince who has just returned from a visit to the Holy Land and has come to thank the French Government for its support in obtaining Abyssinia's entry into the League of Nations. He is accompanied by a large entourage.

COMMUNE CLAIMS VICTORY IN FRANCE

SERVES NOTICE ON SOCIALISTS OF INTENDED PROCEDURE

Appeals to Workingmen to Change Allegiance and Eschew Relations With Radicals

PARIS, May 16.—The Communists have served notice on the Socialists that they will watch out and see that the Socialists fulfill their promises to the voters in the new Chamber of Deputies. The Communists claim they were the real victors in the elections, as their gains were made unaided, and their election activity helped the Socialists and Radicals as much as themselves.

Discounting early failure of the coalition in parliament, the Communist Party issues an appeal to workmen to abandon the Socialist Party, which, it says, renounced its independence by combining with the Radicals. The Socialist gains, the appeal continues, all were due to Radical votes, while the Radical gains were due to Socialist votes, so that neither party can claim a clear-cut victory.

Leaders' Opinions

Eduard Herriot, leader of the Radical Socialists; Leon Blum, leader of the United Socialists, and Paul Painleve, former Premier, questioned today on the probable programme of the new majority in the Chamber, said it would be a programme of conciliation looking toward an international entente, and, taking into consideration the just demands of France's financial programme.

Its aim would be, they said, to attain a really balanced budget. Their principle also included a struggle against the high cost of living, and consequently against the depreciation of the franc.

Prince and Princess Erik Arrive

NEW YORK, May 16.—Prince Erik of Denmark, and his wife, formerly Miss Lois F. Booth, of Ottawa, arrived today after a European honeymoon. They plan to proceed to Arcadia, California. Prince Erik is a brother of Prince Viggo, who is to wed Miss Eleanor M. Green here next month.

DERELICTION OF DUTY CHARGED TO MINISTERS

Sir Thomas White, Sir Henry Drayton and Right Honorable W. S. Fielding Shown to Have Neglected to Act as Guardians of People's Money and Allowed Home Bank to Ruin Thousands

Counsel for Depositors Of Wrecked Bank Speaks

OTTAWA, May 16.—"We had a trinity of negligency—Sir Thomas White, Sir Henry Drayton and Right Hon. W. S. Fielding. I charge these three gentlemen with being parties to the wreck of the bank." In these words, W. T. J. Lee, counsel for depositors of the wrecked Home Bank, this morning before the McKeown Commission, summarized his claim against the Government for reimbursement.

While Sir Thomas White, when Finance Minister, had ignored danger signal after danger signal, he had, at least, made a genuine effort to improve the bank from within. But Mr. Lee claimed his successors in office had been guilty of negligence and inaction in the face of increasing danger.

"Sir Henry Drayton never seems to have cared a whit what became of this bank," asserted Mr. Lee. "He did not care whether the depositors lost all their money or not during his term of office.

"As for Right Hon. W. S. Fielding, he had apparently forgotten that there was any Home Bank at all."

Mr. Lee said he could not find anything to show that the recent Finance Minister had written a single letter to find out about the condition of the bank.

Sir H. Drayton Did Nothing

"Sir Henry Drayton did nothing. Mr. Fielding did less, the bank plunged on the rocks and sixty thousand people lose their money," Mr. Lee declared. "Are these Finance Ministers coming back to return us our money?" He had not observed any indication of such a philanthropic intention on their part.

Mr. Lee's argument, which opened yesterday and occupied a large part of this morning's sitting of the McKeown commission emphasized the warning of the dangerous condition of the bank, which he claimed were repeatedly given to Finance Ministers over a period of years. He claimed that if the public had been in possession of the facts which Sir Thomas White knew, they would not have trusted the bank with their money. The former Minister of Finance had not even issued a note of warning, the people went on depositing their money and eventually the crash came.

He drew attention to a statement furnished to Sir Thomas White on November 15, 1918, by the officers of the bank, showing a copy of the Profit account as appearing in the ledgers of the bank. At the bottom of the statement was a note in regard to the interest on this account reading as follows:

"Taken into profits $688,966."

Asleep at the Switch

"If, up to this time the former Minister of Finance was asleep at the switch, here it was pointed out in black and white for him to read, that the directors of this bank had padded their statements," declared Mr. Lee. "Surely this should have been regarded by the Minister as a reason for doubting the management and directors of the bank. Surely it should have occurred to Sir Thomas that some one was being fooled and that it would be wise to look into the affairs of the bank himself."

By this time, Mr. Lee claimed, the Minister had been warned repeatedly of the dangerous condition of the bank. He had received the "danger signal," from the Western directors in 1916. From that time until 1918 warnings had come to him at intervals, but in August, 1918, the "danger signal had been flaming red."

Mr. H. A. MacHaffie had written a letter to Sir Thomas, containing the most serious charges—charges which Sir Thomas had admitted were serious. He had declared that things were being done which no sound bank would do.

"When Mr. MacHaffie made these serious charges it strikes me that the Minister of Finance, who was the custodian and trustee of the people's money, should not have been hamboozled by any statements of Mr. Haney, Mr. Lash or any other director of the bank," said Mr. Lee.

Sir Thomas Fooled

"Sir Thomas had been fooled from 1918 until the time he went out of office. He should not have been. The people of Canada looked to the Minister of Finance to guard their money honestly, fairly and efficiently. Sir Thomas had been wanting in that common ordinary judgment which men certainly had the right to expect from a Minister of Finance.

"After 1918 Sir Thomas was guilty of a great dereliction in duty to the people of Canada, and the depositors of this bank," declared Mr. Lee. "The Minister of Finance knew the condition of the bank—at any rate he had good reason to fear that it was unsound, but he let it go on. Twenty-eight new branches were opened and three million dollars of deposits were taken in. It was as if the bank directors were saying, 'Bring them along, boys, we will keep the darn thing going as long as we can.'

"But Sir Thomas disregarded all the danger signals. He might at least have advised the poor people who were depositing their money not to put any more in an institution which was shattered and tottering.

"But a greater responsibility rested on Sir Henry Daryton even than that on Sir Thomas White," said Mr. Lee. "Sir Henry had done absolutely nothing but sit down and write letters.

"Sir Henry Drayton never seemed to have cared a whit what became of the bank," declared Mr. Lee. "He did not care whether the depositors lost all their money or not, during his term of office."

GRUESOME FIND RECALLS TRAGEDY

REMAINS OF VICTIMS OF FRANK SLIDE IN 1902 RECOVERED

Expectations That Buried Union Bank May Be Located, and Police Guard Excavation

CALGARY, May 16.—A special dispatch to the Herald today from Blairmore, Alta., says:

"The skeletons of several people buried by the Frank slide in 1902 were unearthed on Friday morning by government road gangs working on the new road through the slide. Police patrols are now keeping a close guard over the operations because it is believed that the ruins of the Union Bank, which were buried may be unearthed.

From the location of the houses and in the opinion of old-timers in the district the skeletons unearthed are believed to be those of a family by the name of Clark that moved from Claresholm to Frank just a few days before the disaster.

The skeletons of one adult and three or four children were found in one house and the skeleton of a man was found under a huge boulder not far distant.

A pocket knife and other personal articles were found with this skeleton but there was nothing to definitely indentify it by.

VICTORIA BAPTISTS OBSERVING JUBILEE

Three Missionaries From India to Give Addresses in Local Churches Today

The Victoria celebration of the Jubilee of Baptist work in India will be held today. The afternoon meeting at 3:15 o'clock in the First Baptist Church will be addressed by Dr. Eva D'Prazer, a celebrated lady physician of India.

In addition to Dr. D'Prazer, the evening meeting in Emmanuel Baptist Church will be addressed by Dr. Joshee, another famous native physician, and Rev. J. B. MacLaurin. Mr. MacLaurin is a professor in a Baptist theological college in Inida and is home on furlough.

All three missionaries are outstanding speakers. Inspiring meetings have been held in many of the chief cities of Canada throughout the past few weeks.

Owing to the train from Edmonton reaching Vancouver too late for the missionaries to get the boat on Wednesday last, these meetings ware postponed until the above date.

Error in Commission of Magistrate Results in Traffickers Going Free

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Four Chinese, from Port Alberni in British Columbia, from 25 to 40 years, are happy this morning because their contemplated journey back to their native land has been averted through the action of Mr. Justice Murphy. All four, who this morning were in Okalla prison, are now at liberty, their conviction having been quashed. Tow Chow, Hoo Ho and Hen Yew were discovered with drugs in possession and each was sentenced to six months together with $200 fines, by Stipendiary Magistrate A. G. Freeze, of Alberni. It developed, however, that the magistrate's commission was for the entire province instead of for a county, and it was on this point that the court found lack of jurisdiction.

Law-Making Vendor May Solve Mystery of Prune Juice Factory

FERNIE, May 16.—Mr. James McLean, government liquor vendor in this city, was the unanimous choice of the Fernie riding Liberal Association in convention here last evening as their candidate for the forthcoming provincial elections. Mr. McLean, who is a well-known old-timer in this district, having resided in Fernie for over twenty-six years, accepted nomination, and will immediately resign his position as a government employe. This will be his first venture as a candidate for legislative honors.

VIENNA, May 16.—The trade depression in Austria has brought about another wave of suicides. Six were reported on Wednesday in Vienna, and nine last night.

BRITISH COMMONS REJECT MINES BILL

MEASURE TO NATIONALIZE COLLIERIES DEFEATED

Government in Favor of Principle Involved, But Could Not Accept Responsibility

LONDON, May 16.—The House of Commons today rejected the mines nationalization bill by a vote of 264 to 148.

In introducing the mines nationalization bill, George H. Hall, Labor member, a Welsh colliery check weighman, said nationalization had been demanded by the miners for a generation. He quoted ex-Premier Lloyd George as having said nationalization must be considered as a business proposition.

"We accept that challenge," said Mr. Hall, "and are prepared to prove it is a good proposition."

Emanuel Shinwell, parliamentary secretary for the Department of Mines, said the Government could not accept responsibility for the measure. Nevertheless, while recognising that no mandate had been obtained from the electors to pursue a policy of nationalization, the Government, he declared, wholeheartedly accepted the principles embodied in the measure.

Lloyd George Interrupted

Mr. Lloyd George, who during his remarks was subjected to many interruptions from the Labor benches, said the bill was the first concrete example of the new Socialism to be put into operation as soon as the new Labor party had a majority. He declared, in addition to giving the miners a right to strike, the bill gave the same right to officials of the mining council, which meant that they could participate in a strike against a decision of the council of which they were members.

The ex-Premier twitted the Government on the fact that so much attention was paid in the bill to providing for losses, the money for which was to come out of the public funds, while if profits were made, they were to go back into the industry. This was not nationalization, he insisted, but a gigantic trust in the interests of one section of the community.

NO CHARGE AGAINST "VOLCANIC" BROWN

Old Pioneer Miner Who Defended Child Against Drunken Father Honorably Discharged

GRAND FORKS, B.C., May 16.—"Volcanic" R. A. Brown, who shot and killed William Brown on Friday evening last, when the latter was on a drunken rampage, and who gave himself up to the police and has since been in custody, was dismissed this morning without any charge being placed against him. This was done on the authority of the Attorney-General after a review of the case.

"Volcanic" has been treated like a hero by hosts of friends while under detention. Scores have come to him offering assistance of any kind, supplying him with all kinds of fruit and flowers as well as mining literature. He admits he has been having a fine holiday, and the possibility of a murder charge never caused him a thought.

ZONES OF SILENCE EXPERIMENT PUZZLES

Explosion of Ten Tons of Melinite Fails to Solve Mystery Observed on Battle Fields

LA COURTINE, PAY D'DOME, France, May 16.—The results of the experiment in exploding ten tons of melinite last night at the Courtine camp, near here, in an attempt to solve the mystery of "zones of silence" were disappointing and puzzling.

The explosion blew a hole twenty feet deep and sixty feet wide in the soft soil. With the exception of one guinea pig, which died a martyr to science, a number of animals placed in holes at distances varying from one hundred to three hundred yards from the scene showed no ill effects.

The results of observations of delicate appliances placed at various distances are curious and inexplicable. Those in the immediate neighborhood in Ussel, La Courtine and Aubusson, registered only feeble shocks. Paris heard nothing; nor did Amiens. At some of these cities shocks were registered but it is not certain they were caused by the explosion.

Mr. Geo. I. Wilson Dies Suddenly in Los Angeles

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Mr. G. I. Wilson, pioneer resident of Vancouver, died at Los Angeles this morning at the age of 76. He died quite suddenly as he was preparing to return to Vancouver.

Mr. Wilson was for many years identified with the salmon canning industry of the province and was highly respected by all who knew him. He had many warm friends in Victoria, who will regret to hear of his sudden death.

To Make Rich Red Blood

Revitalize your worn-out exhausted nerves and increase your strength and endurance take Organic Iron not metallic iron which people usually take, but pure organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples. One dose of Nuxated Iron is estimated to be approximately equivalent (in organic iron content) to eating one-half quart of spinach, one quart of green vegetables or half a dozen apples. It is like taking extract of beef instead of eating pounds of meat. Nuxated Iron is partially predigested and ready for almost immediate absorption and assimilation by the blood, while metallic iron is iron just as it comes from the action of strong acids on small pieces of iron filings.

Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. It will not injure the teeth nor disturb the stomach. A few doses will often commence to enrich your blood. Your money will be refunded by the manufacturers if you do not obtain satisfactory results.

Beware of substitutes. Always insist on having genuine organic iron—Nuxated Iron. Look for the letters N. I. on every tablet. Sold by all druggists.

SCHEME ENDORSED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GROUP

Last Year's Executive Re-elected to Office Unanimously at Meeting Held Yesterday

The Industrial Group of the Chamber of Commerce met in annual gathering at the lunch hour yesterday and after reviewing the work of the past year decided that the best ends of the group were to be served by the selection of the old executive with Mr. M. P. Blair as presiding officer. The meeting expressed its high appreciation of the work done by Mr. Blair and the other members of the executive, re-electing them unanimously for another term.

The scheme of holding a B. C. Products Week from June 2 to 7 was endorsed and an effort will be made on the part of the group to lend every aid to this. Definite action was deferred until next week, when a representative from the Vancouver B.C. Products Bureau of the Board of Trade is to visit this city and lend assistance in the carrying into effect of the scheme. It was suggested that arrangements be made for the gathering together on that occasion of not only the members of the group and the members of the whole Chamber of Commerce but that also retailers and wholesalers as well as manufacturers be asked to co-operate and that a mass meeting of all that would be interested be arranged for the time of the visit and active steps then be taken to make the week a real success.

The meeting also went on record as in favor of a similar proposition namely the putting on of an annual Home Products Fair. The importance of this was explained by a number of the members present and the good to be derived brought home.

The importance of arranging this feature so that it should not in any way interfere with the Fall Fair here was brought out. A committee will be appointed to go into the whole subject with the idea of suggesting also where the fair should be held. The Armories was suggested as a place for holding the fair with attractions for the evenings.

Consideration was given to the advisability of having prizes arranged for essays that should be written by the pupils of the schools on the subject of visits to local factories. This matter was left in the hands of a committee that will be appointed by the chairman.

The executive for the year re-elected yesterday is as follows: Messrs. M. P. Blair (chairman), J. A. Griffith, Alderman Harvey, E. B. Halsall, H. J. Pendray, A. J. Watson and John Wood.

PROBE NEEDLESS, DIRECTORS SAY

ALDERMAN MARCHANT'S MOTION BRINGS COMMENT

Would Have Affairs of B.C. Agricultural Association Inquired Into —Colleagues Oppose

"I consider that an investigation will be a waste of time, as there is nothing in need of investigation."—Alderman Ker.

"If I were not convinced that everything was all right in connection with the B. C. Agricultural Association I would resign from the directorate."—Alderman Harvey.

"I don't know what Alderman Marchant wants investigated. I am ready to answer any questions that he might wish to ask."—Alderman Sangster.

These are some of the comments heard from members of the board of directors of the B. C. Agricultural Association, following the posting of notice by Alderman Marchant that he would move at the Council meeting Monday night a resolution authorizing an inquiry into the association's affairs and its relation to the horse racing concessions granted this year and last. The motion is as follows:

The Motion

"That the Mayor be requested to appoint four aldermen and the Mayor to inquire into and report on the affairs of the British Columbia Agricultural Association and its relations to the horse racing concessions made in the years 1923 and 1924, and that such committee be constituted under sections 47 and 48 of the Municipal Act, with the powers therein conferred."

Alderman Marchant would give no explanation of his motion yesterday outside of stating that the replies given to some questions asked by him earlier in the year in regard to the association had not been sufficient.

Alderman Sangster, who was secretary of the B. C. Agricultural Association when the racing concessions were granted last year and this year, declared last night that he did not know what further information Alderman Marchant wanted, but was willing to answer any questions that might be put to him. The association had made the best possible bargain with the racing interests in both years, he contended. He would not oppose an investigation, although he saw no reason for one, the alderman said.

Waste of Time

"I am opposed to an investigation as a useless waste of time," declared Alderman Ker one of the three representatives of the City Council on the association's board of directors. "I don't know what Alderman Marchant wants to investigate. The association has got the most it could for the racing concessions. If I thought that there was anything wrong with the way things were conducted I would not remain on the board."

"Alderman Marchant submitted a fairly full set of questions and received what seemed to me fairly complete answers" said Alderman Harvey, another of the city's representatives. "I know of nothing to be investigated. There has always been gossip about the association, but I have never had the slightest reason to believe that there was anything wrong. If anyone thinks he could, as a member of the board, find something crooked I shall be glad to step down and let him have my place. If I were not convinced that everything was all right I would hand in my resignation at once."

ORGANIST TO BE AT CENTENNIAL SUNDAY

Mr. W. Moncrieff Mawer Will Appear Briefly in Recital Prior to Evening Service—From East

Mr. W. Moncrieff Mawer, lately of St. John, New Brunswick, where he held the position of organist and choirmaster in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, will appear briefly in recital, preceding the evening service at Centennial Church on Sunday night. Mr. Mawer will play at seven o'clock and he will also render a vocal solo during the service. Since coming to Canada from Edinburgh, Scotland, Mr. Mawer has held several important musical positions in Regina and Winnipeg, as well as in the Maritime provinces. He was trained in the organ under the tutelage of Alfred Hollins and in voice with Signor Ricci in Florence, Italy. Since his entrance into the profession he has had a wide and successful experience. Mr. and Mrs. Mawer are spending a vacation in the West, while Mr. Mawer considers the possibility of removing to one of the Coast cities. In Victoria they are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. V. L. Leigh.

At 80 Years of Age Was Troubled With Shortness of Breath Palpitation of the Heart and Fainting Spells

Mrs. M. O'Conner, Whitestone, Ont., writes:—"I have been troubled, most of my life, with shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and fainting spells. I was advised by a friend to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I did, and at once found relief, and I have never had a really bad spell since.

I am 80 years of age and always keep them in the house, and when I feel any symptoms of my old trouble coming on all I have to do is to take a few doses. With the help of your Pills I expect to see many years yet. I always recommend them to any one who is suffering from heart trouble."

Persons and Portents in Politics

The hush that precedes the storm has fallen on the political camps of Victoria and Vancouver, and the momentary excitement which followed announcement of the election date has been succeeded by an interval of calm, during which, so it is hinted by the cognoscenti, much useful work is doing on the part of the "supers"—those who carry a spear or hold a bottle in support of the greatest figures in the limelight.

Who's to be who—or who's to be whom, if one is fussy—in the said limelight, is the question of the hour meanwhile. So far, of the six main tickets to be nominated in the two cities, only one, that of the Victoria Liberals, is known beyond peradventure; and there is much speculation as to the others.

Conjecture will be set at rest in both places within the next ten days, or two weeks at furthest. Both Conservatives and Liberals will nominate candidates in Vancouver next week, and the Third Party there is expected to follow suit immediately thereafter.

Victoria Conservatives, while they have not yet definitely announced the date of their nominating convention, are expected to hold it, according to tentative plans, either on Friday or Saturday of next week, or on the following Monday.

Messrs. Joseph Hinchliffe, H. Deapard Twigg and Mayor Reginald Hayward continue in the running as the favorites for the first three places on the Conservative ticket. The name of Dr. J. D. Hunter is widely mentioned for the fourth place.

The Provincial Party here will hold its nominating convention next Tuesday evening, in Alexandra Hall. Admission will be by ticket of membership in the party. Adherents of the party, undisturbed by the thunders of Premier Oliver and the minor noises of his colleagues, forecast a well-attended and enthusiastic convention.

Nothing for press consumption is available in the local headquarters of the Third Party in the way of forecasts of the probable ticket. The Provincial Party is to nominate its candidates according to the principles of democracy, pure and undefiled, it is intimated; and consequently, borrowing a leaf from the despised book of Premier Oliver, in the days when his chief preoccupation was knowing nothing whatever about the date of the election, there "is nothing to give out."

Nevertheless, and despite this unexceptionable status quo ante nomination, rumor continues to busy itself with the names of three citizens who are said to be likely to get the Third Party nomination on the first ballot. The names are those of Aldermen Todd and Woodward, and Mr. D. S. Tait. Aldermen Todd and Woodward were early in the field in support of General McRae and his organization; while Mr. Tait earned the thanks of the party by his hard work as junior counsel for the party at the Pacific Great Eastern inquiry.

Non-sectarian friends of Rev. Dr. Clem Davies find gleams of political comfort in the news that the popular pastor of Centennial Church may find himself without a pulpit, as a result of recent decisions of the Methodist Conference. These friends of Dr. Davies are reported as regarding him as even more available politically without a church than with one; and it is not unlikely that redoubled efforts will be made to induce him to run in Victoria as an Independent candidate.

Victoria Liberals will loose the first shafts of their political campaign lightning tonight, when Premier Oliver will speak at a party rally in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The Premier will be fresh from his oracular and oratorical triumphs in the Lower Mainland, and is expected to be pungent if reminiscently familiar in his references to unscrupulous oppositions and conscienceless Third Parties. Premier Oliver says the Provincial Party is negligible, and he keeps on saying it, just to prove how negligible he thinks it is. The Premier is said to regard the phrase about "damnable iteration" as unfit for the purposes of practical politicians.

PREMIER TO SPEAK HERE THIS EVENING

Liberal Candidates for Victoria Will Be Heard at Public Meeting in Chamber of Commerce

The Liberals will start the Government campaign going here in full force tonight, when they hold a public meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The gathering will commence at 8 o'clock, and the organizers believe that a large number of electors will be present to hear the views of the speakers on the work of the Oliver administration and plans for the future development of British Columbia that they might enunciate.

Hon. John Oliver will be the principal speaker of the evening, and by his address will fire the opening shot on Vancouver Island in the Liberal campaign for a return of the Oliver Government to power for another four years.

In addition to Hon. John Oliver, who is heading the Liberal ticket in Victoria, the three other candidates here, Mr. Joseph B. Clearihue, M.P.P., Dr. Melbourne Raynor and Mr. Samuel J. Drake, will address the gathering on questions of the hour.

Following the Liberal meeting here tonight, Premier Oliver leaves for a tour of the Interior and Lower Mainland ridings, and will not return to Vancouver until May 31, on which night a big Liberal rally will be held in the Terminal City. It is therefore expected that a big audience will greet the Premier when he opens his campaign here tonight.

An Awful Attack of Pimples All Over His Face

Pimples breaking out on the face and other parts of the body is a sure sign that the blood is not in proper shape.

While the skin is the object of the attack the real seat of the disease is in the blood on account of the entire circulation being poisoned.

Burdock Blood Bitters quickly and effectually banishes pimples and all other skin diseases as it goes right to the root of the trouble by cleansing and enriching the blood.

Mr. Conrad Anderson, Kelfield, Sask., writes:—"A year ago I had an awful attack of pimples. They broke out all over my face and I could not get rid of them in any way. One day a friend told me about your Burdock Blood Bitters and let me have a bottle he had to spare. After using it I noticed a change, so I bought three more bottles, and now I don't know there is such a thing as pimples."

COMPETITIVE CHOIRS IN FESTIVAL CONCERT

The forthcoming music festival at Vancouver, beginning on Tuesday, 20th inst., and concluding with a big concert on Saturday evening, is creating no little interest in local music circles. Included in the 25 entries from the Capital City is the Jackson Hanby choir of 35 voices, which is competing in the choir division of the festival. In order to give assistance to their going to the Mainland city a festival concert has been arranged to be given at the First Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, May 19, and the programme will consist chiefly of festival competition numbers, such as quartettes, trios, duets, choruses and solos. This will give the citizens generally an opportunity to hear some of the competitors in the numbers to be given at the festival. Assisting the choir in this deserving concert will be Miss Anita Holt, violinist, and Miss Mustard, elocutionist. Tickets for admission may be obtained at Fletcher Bros. and MacFarlane's Drug Store, Douglas Street.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX

It has always been recognized that the Federal income tax, while ostensibly enforced equitably, does not operate in that way. Many escape who should pay and it is an easy matter to discover the class which is best off under the income tax as at present enforced. The classes, as the collection of income tax was distributed for 1923, were as follows:

Business profits	$28,022,149
Employees	15,529,949
Miscellaneous	6,855,950
Merchants	5,474,256
Professionals	2,663,900
Manufacturers	870,261
Not classified	490,046
Farmers	473,049

Next to the amount derived from business profits, employees naturally pay the largest sum, since last year 208,360 of the 281,182 payers of Federal income tax were registered as employees. Of these 52 per cent had incomes under $6,000 per annum. The point in connection with these figures which is of the highest interest is the small amount paid by the farmers, and yet the agricultural industry is the greatest in Canada. The farmers cannot complain of being overburdened by direct taxation. The new Federal Budget gives them relief in the matter of indirect taxation by reducing, or removing, the tariff on certain commodities which they need in their industry. By an anomaly there is a party in the Federal Parliament holding more than one-quarter of the seats in the House of Commons and representing a class in the country which pays income tax of $473,049 out of a total payment from that source of $60,379,560.

ISSUES IN SOUTH AFRICA

General Smuts is carrying on a strenuous campaign in South Africa, and, as the date of the election approaches, his chances of being sustained in power appear to increase. He has a policy that does not lack in courage. His claim is that the South African Party has succeeded beyond its fondest dreams in its first and greatest object, the destruction of the bar which in the past has kept the white races politically divided. That party is the one fighting the secessionist danger. The South African Government, according to Premier Smuts' contention, has taken the ship of state safely through troublous times of unprecedented depression, unemployment, drought and locusts. The Government now looks forward to the prospect of remitting taxation during the next financial year. General Smuts has a strong trade policy, which includes a new portfolio of Trade and Industries in the Cabinet and the sending of a trade commissioner to North America to promote the cotton industry and attract settlers to South Africa.

The greatest of the assets in favor of the South African Party in the election is the calibre of General Smuts. He has breadth of view, courage and capacity, whereas the limitations of his opponents, General Hertzog and Colonel Creswell, are widely recognized. The idea of taking the Nationalists seriously as an alternative government is hardly entertained and there are misgivings about the Nationalist-Labor pact for political purposes. General Smuts has a constructive policy. He promises railway development, new railway shops and an intensive agricultural policy. He has a definite programme and knows how to enunciate it. His Government also has a record of having kept the country's credit unimpaired throughout a serious time, and it has in this respect the merit of the establishment of a Central Bank, which probably prevented a banking collapse. The forces arrayed against General Smuts are powerful in the counting of heads, but they lack the leadership which he has given to South Africa.

CIVIC PROCRASTINATION

With the tourist season already upon us, for visitors are beginning to arrive here, it is timely again to draw attention to the rubbish heap which our municipal authorities have seen fit to allow for the past twelve years in the James Bay district. Not only does the city allow of this rubbish heap, but, of its own volition, it adds to its accumulations from time to time, making it more and more unsightly. We allude to the pile which has been gathered on that triangular piece of property bounded on the North by Cross Street, on the South by Quebec, on the West by Montreal, while on the East the point runs into St. John Street. Every motor car carrying passengers to and from the Outer Wharves passes by this rubbish pile, which is a block in length and which conveys to all eyewitnesses a monument of the desuetude which can enter into municipal administration.

The City Council is to blame for allowing this eyesore to persist for so long. The centre of a residential area is not the location for a rubbish heap. The people whose residences look out upon the unsightly pile pay taxes, and heavy ones, and they are entitled to some consideration against conditions which cannot but have the effect of reducing the value of their properties. How deaf to frequent complaints in this particular the city has been is illustrated by the fact that as late as Tuesday last another cart load of material was dumped on this piece of land by city employees. Our municipal authorities talk of clean-up campaigns. They should set the example, and begin on this rubbish pile which has been accumulating for upwards of a decade. Four hundred globe-touring sightseers are to visit Victoria on May 24, arriving here aboard the Empress of Canada, and they will all be conveyed to the points of interest via the route on which this rubbish heap lies. There will be some thousands of other visitors here on the same day. The opening of our tourist season should be an incentive to the City authorities to do what they ought, for more conclusive reason, to have done long ago.

CRIME IN U.S.A.

Dr. Hoffman, of the Prudential Insurance Company, estimates that not fewer than 10,000 persons were murdered in the United States last year. He calls this fact "an appalling indication of the growth of lawlessness and crime without a parallel in the social history of nations." It does not seem as if Prohibition is improving the ethical standards of the people, though we admit Prohibition may not be to blame for the murder record. The United States is a complex of polyglot peoples. It has difficulties in administration, and, in attempting to solve these, laws are multiplied. It is building up great cities with their arcas of vice, and it only punishes the crime of murder in a very partial way. It is attempting the impossible task of welding into a homogenous whole strains of nationalities whose outlooks in a social way are as wide apart as the poles. By too much law it has brought the law, in some instances, into disrespect and the record of crime grows. Apart from these considerations there are too many—some millions—people legitimately entitled to carry firearms in the United States, and then, too, there is seemingly something left to be desired in the educational system of the country.

THE S.P.C.A.

No one ever begrudges a kindly word for the activities of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. That organization has energetic workers in Victoria who are always and ever ready to lend the helping hand where it may be needed on behalf of defenceless animals. It is a humane task, and one that has always been humanely carried out in this city, because it has been entrusted to the most sympathetic personnel. The society is holding a tag day today. We doubt not that it will be an appeal which will find a responsive echo among all. It is not in the nature of mankind in the aggregate to be cruel to animals. On the contrary, kindness is the customary virtue in the dealings between humans and those other living creatures over whom we have been given dominion. The work of the S.P.C.A.—a perennial work—calls for funds so that it may be carried out efficiently. It is only necessary to remind the public of this to make sure that today's appeal will result in the response which can, and ought to be, most surely expected.

La Patrie says: "Immigration serves to turn to account the resources of the Dominion, it is true; but why run up big expenses on account of European immigrants when we do not even know how to look after our sons of the soil at home and furnish them with a means of earning their living. The important thing, for the time being, is to protect our city workmen and to encourage agriculture. It is the only means of stemming the exodus of our own people. It seems strange to vaunt the benefits of immigration when the inhabitants of the country are taking the road to the United States by thousands and hundreds of thousands."

"Correspondence tabled at Ottawa," says The Montreal Gazette, "shows that the King Government had no policy respecting the Singapore naval base, but that does not place the Singapore naval base in a class by itself." The Federal Government has no policy about the Treaty of Lausanne. Evidently it has none whatever on the question of naval defence; and, indeed, on Empire matters as a whole it is in a state of quiescence.

No one who has read Mr. George Bernard Shaw's writings will believe for a moment his statement that he is a Communist. On the contrary, he is an individualist in the most arrogant sense of that word. If he were not an individualist with the intellectual faculties he possesses he would not be the George Bernard Shaw that the world knows.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Is it the personal influence of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King or the influence of the Government of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King that is broadcasting a wave of pessimism throughout Canada? At the very seat of government it appears there is a feeling in the air that Canada is drifting in the direction of what Dr. Goldwin Smith always held was her ultimate destiny—annexation to the United States.

The Ottawa Citizen, a powerful newspaper published in the capital of the Dominion, referring to certain "authorities," says: "They are equally incompetent to deal with the national situation as it is described in the facts (regarding the shortage of immigrants and the flight of Canadian citizens to the United States), which Mr. MacNeill made public last Saturday. Perhaps the older people, who are staying at home while young Canada moves into the United States, are resigned to the prospects of annexation, which grow plainer every day. But there must surely be many young people who still have faith in Canada, who still hold to the vision of an independent and prosperous Canadian nation."

Such statements in a newspaper published in the capital of Canada and in the loyal Province of Ontario appear somewhat startling. There are radical journals in the West which seem to be groping around in political gloom and uncertainty, longing for a change, and apparently not caring what the nature of the change may be; but we expected something different from Ottawa. We must ascribe this display of despondency to the influence of the Premier and the policy of the Government. We cannot account for it upon any other hypothesis. The personal views of Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King are fairly well known, while the opinions of the members of the party with which he has allied himself in order to retain power have frequently been publicly expressed.

Mr. Justice Murphy, a native of British Columbia, and an ornament to the Bench, a few days ago delivered an address on patriotism at a meeting of the Native Sons of Canada. That speech should be published and delivered in the office of The Ottawa Citizen. There was not one note of pessimism in it. It was an eloquent tribute to the virtue of British institutions and contained a powerful appeal to Canadians to cherish, defend and maintain British connection and institutions. Judge Murphy has no doubts about the high destiny of Canada as the chief of the Overseas Dominions of the British Empire.

Should the discussion of the future of Canada proceed beyond its present incipient stage, few persons will be found sustaining the position of the disunionists and a great multitude maintaining the position of Mr. Justice Murphy. If The Ottawa Citizen were to consult its readers in the Province of Quebec (on the border of which it is published), we believe the editor of that paper might hear some things that would make his ears tingle.

Someone who claims to speak with authority says that in ten years the railways of Canada and the United States will be unable to accommodate the number of passengers and the quantity of freight seeking transportation. That statement is based upon an estimate of the increase in population and business of the continent. No doubt great changes will take place within the next decade; but in the meantime the railways are finding out that a competitor of some importance is affecting their business.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway, one of the oldest systems in the United States, and serving very thickly populated districts, announces that it is going to cut out a number of stops along its lines. Motor car operators are affecting its business, particularly the business between centres which are only a short distance apart. The experience of the Eastern system has been the experience of all systems.

But the observation of the authority in question may be borne out in respect of the business carried over long distances by the railways. The roads of Canada may therefore await the future with confidence. There will be a tremendous industrial development in this country within the next ten years. Our agricultural and other natural products must be transported over great distances to the markets of the continent and of the world. Whatever the motor car may develop into as a competitor in the business of transportation in the immediate or the remote future, it can hardly compete with the railways in the business of long distance transportation. There may be a revolution, but the fittest will survive within its own special sphere.

Trotzky of Russia is never at a loss for an ogre when he considers it necessary to stimulate the zeal or soothe the feelings of his celebrated Red Army. For a considerable time the patriots were told that they must always be ready, Poincaire of France was ready to pounce upon them at any moment. Now the French tiger has been slain by his own proletariat, and the Reds of Russia are told that their chief enemy is the United States, the great stronghold of capitalism and the citadel of human tyranny and intolerance. Poincare did his utmost to make the Russian embassy to Great Britain a complete failure. The United States is even more powerful in Britain than France was; therefore Sovietism must be on its guard against American republicanism. The Russian people are very simple and easily beguiled.

Canada's Story Day by Day

By Blodwen Davies

May 17

While Canada was keenly concerned about the progress of higher education, during the earlier part of the last century there was an amazing apathy concerning the education of the children, who were left to the mercies of the under-paid and incompetent teachers, in school houses of the most primitive sort. On this day in 1871 the province of New Brunswick passed a bill by which it was provided with means to cope with the situation. The bill called for free compulsory education. It was followed by bitter controversies, but the government remained firm for it was at last awake to the situation. Within twenty-five years New Brunswick doubled the number of schools and of its pupils. Nova Scotia had established free schools in 1864, and Prince Edward Island provided her children with public education as early as 1853. So with the passing of the New Brunswick bill the Maritime Provinces were well on the road to their present excellent educational status.

Poems That Endure

Untwisting all the chains that tie
The hidden soul of harmony.

SONG

I went out to the hazelwood
Because a fire was in my head
I cut and peeled a hazel wand
And hooked a berry to a thread;
And when white moths were on the wing
And mothlike stars were flickering out,
I dropped the berry in the stream
And caught a little silver trout.

When I had laid it on the floor
I went to blow the fire aflame,
And something rustled on the floor
And someone called me by my name.
It had become a glimmering girl
With apple blossom in her hair,
Who called me by my name and ran
And faded through the brightening air.

Though I am old with wandering
Through hollow lands and hilly lands,
I will find out where she has gone,
And kiss her lips and take her hands,
And walk among long dappled grass
And pluck till time and times are done
The silver apples of the moon—
The golden apples of the sun.

Beacon Hill as Site

Sir,—It must be extremely gratifying and heartening to those who are now acting as a Victoria Memorial Committee to note the interest taken in the many suggestions offered in the daily press on the proposed War Memorial for the Capital City.

A few days ago I addressed a communication to the honorary secretary of this committee, Miss Lottie Bowron, in which I emphasized the suggestion made by my friend, Mr. J. N. Hopkins, at the first public meeting (at which I was not able to be present), that a Memorial Tower with a peal of bells be erected on Beacon Hill, in my opinion the best and most historic site of Victoria. In this direction, I would like to say that I was one of those, who, in the early days of Vancouver, brought about the installation of the beautiful peal (in F) in that city in the Catholic Cathedral there. In my experience there is of any avail now, I shall be glad to give it wholeheartedly and willingly. I am one of those for a tower and peal of bells at Beacon Hill.

Occultism

Sir,—Instead of being a doubting Thomas, why does not R. B. D study occultism? It would be so much better to do so before criticising anything occult, otherwise he will only succeed in making himself appear ridiculous instead of the person criticised an object of ridicule.

There is an occult law that no force in nature can be captured by humans until humanity at large has proved that that force will be used for the benefit of the whole and not as a perquisite of the few. Should anyone succeed in capturing a force before civilisation is ready to use it honorably, the person discovering such will either die suddenly or become mad before the secret is made public. Such was the case with Kelly. A year or two before the Great War, in The Scientific American, you can read the account of a man who had captured such a force, and that he himself was its centre. This man had invented such a wonderful machine that had that machine been used by the Germans—and they tried their utmost to obtain Kelly's secret—the Allied British armies would have been completely annihilated. Kelly's workshops were in Illinois. The only power needed to start his engines proceeded from himself. He died suddenly and his secret died with him. He was about ten thousand years before his time.

Defiling the Beaches

Sir,—Thanks are due to The Colonist for again calling attention to this matter. The different opinions expressed almost lead anyone to suppose that Victoria has more difficulties to contend with than any other port, and it may be quite true what Alderman Andros says, viz., that garbage taken to sea on the best of tides might come back to our shore. With the present system he does not see what could be done.

In your issue of today, City Engineer F. M. Preston states that the customary dumping place for garbage is at a spot one mile southwest of the end of the breakwater, and with an offshore wind the contractor has instructions to dump three miles out. Now I do not know who holds the contract at present, and it may be that the terms and the "instructions" are faithfully complied with, but I am impelled to relate an experience which I had about three years ago. I was in a boat with a friend fishing, and about 8 o'clock one morning we were just by the end of the breakwater when the garbage scow was seen coming in, and from the time we noticed it until it passed out of sight by Brackman-Ker's wharf the garbage was being dumped into the water and the surface consequently was covered with cans, boxes, and many kinds of rubbish. This may have been an extreme case, but what struck me so forcibly was the absolute indifference to observation on the part of the man in the scow, and it seemed to me that only previous experience could have brought this about. Possibly he was hurrying in for breakfast.

Is it, then, nobody's duty to see that the provisions of such a contract are not only put in writing, but carried out? My friend, an old resident in Victoria, said that on various occasions he had noticed garbage being dumped disgracefully near the breakwater, but never quite so close in as on this occasion. In answer to my inquiry whether the newspapers would publish a letter describing the occurrence, he replied that they would print it in all probability, but that it would do no good—nothing would come of it. It would be "hushed up"—for the credit of Victoria!

The S.P.C.A.

Sir,—Most of us are so taken up with our daily duties that we are apt to pass over the many services rendered by several societies who burden themselves with a share of the responsibilities for the better preservation of life and limb.

The usefulness, its objects and duties of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was forced upon me last evening by the following occurrence. I was just retiring to bed (about 11 o'clock) last evening, when the whole warfront resounded with the most pitiful and heart-rending cries from some animal. Hurriedly dressing I, with some members of my family, following the direction of the cries, found a beautiful dog with its back evidently broken, it having apparently been run over by some passing auto. Two gentlemen from a nearby hotel endeavored to pacify the poor creature, but it was evident nothing could be done.

Pitiful moans of the poor creature aroused every sympathetic feling of those present, and though at our wits' end as to best end its suffering, a suggestion was made that the officer acting for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Society should be phoned to. My whole purpose of this letter is to express the appreciation of those who witnessed the occurrence at the immediate attention given, for in less than half an hour (near 12 midnight) the secretary of the S.P.C.A. appeared on the scene, on his wheel and a dose of chloroform ended the sufferings of the unfortunate animal. I have taken the trouble to write this, knowing that our busy men and women these days are so occupied with their own duties that they seldom learn of the great amount of good done in such cases. As a dog loyer I thank God that we have such societies in our midst as the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

A West Coast Road

Sir,—The name of the late Sir Richard McBride will ever be associated with the now far-famed Malahat, which he gave to the people of Vancouver Island, and next to the valuable Sooke Lake water system, which ex-Mayor Morley gave us, it is the best asset Victoria has. It strikes me, Mr. Editor, that now should be the time to give some far-seeing and spirited-minded statesmen a chance to have their names ever associated with the much-wished-for road up the West Coast—not a costly railroad, which would soon lose its charms through excessive rates—but a people's motor road, for the people and free to the people. Build it with solid concrete the same as at Colwood, with no cost for upkeep. Build it wherever practicable within sight of the vast Pacific, so that beacon lights may be placed at intervals for the guidance of mariners who may be in doubt about their location. If this road should become a reality, then it and the Malahat, the Sooke Lake waterworks, and the Johnson Street Bridge, will make Victoria's joy complete.

Oak Bay Taxes

Sir,—In wanton disregard of the mandate of the voters, against the taxation of improvements, the Council has, in its "wisdom," violated that demand.

Now, we of the household brigade, whose mashie is a washtub and whose tennis racquet is a broom, a hoe, or a rake to beautify our home and garden, and incidentally our surroundings, have none but the kindliest feelings toward those who can afford the time for golf and tennis as well as other inviting recreations, but we most assuredly protest against paying toward their maintenance and also fostering that pestilential sore on the body politic—speculation.

The discrimination shown by our civic administration can suggest but one of two motives, either incompetency or interest. My taxes have been nearly trebled under this violation, while values are excessive and will not bear comparison.

Cannot some guiding spirit take the initiative and let us join in a protest by jointly and severally refusing to pay such an extortion on the grounds of violation of the people's mandate as well as on the grounds of most pernicious discrimination.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of May 17, 1874.)

We would urge upon the Government to follow Canadian procedure and hold the forthcoming elections as nearly as possible on the same day. Dual voting—we mean voting in more than one district—having been abolished, we can see no reason why the Island and the Lower Mainland districts should not vote on the same day. In the last Dominion elections, in this Province, this system was followed (with the exception of Cariboo and Kootenay) and found to work well, and we hope that no attempt will be made by the Government to disregard the precedent so properly set.

The steamer Enterprise, with the following passengers, arrived here from New Westminster yesterday afternoon: Mr and Mrs Edgar, Mrs Ward, Miss Franks, Miss Halmekan, Mrs Armstrong, Bishop De Herbomez, Father Harris, C. F. Major, Mr. Jones, Mahon, J. A. Mahood, Mr. Eberts, Mr. Grosbaum, Mr. Ozzo.

The Saanich Indians were yesterday supplied with agricultural implements by the Indian Commissioners. Wonder if they will "hoe for Caesar?"

A FOREST FIRE AT NIGHT

The flames flash high in the leaden sky
And the burning waters gleam,
Red as the blood of a battle flood,
In the firelight's ruddy stream.

The smoke rolls back, half red and black,
And shows the naked trees
Roaring aloft with their branches doft
By the waves of the burning breeze.

In the burning hail the giants fall
With a sound like thunder's roar;
Then the smoke rolls in on the ceaseless din,
And hides the glare once more.

My God! What a night for a forest fight!
With the demon that will not die,
For the tempest sweeps o'er the soaring steeps,
And the forest is hot and dry.

No hope for the trees of centuries.
That have stood through wind and snow,
For a sheet of fire comes towering higher,
And strikes, and lays them low.

ISLAND FRUIT CROPS IN FORWARD STATE

Department Report Shows Strawberries in Full Bloom—April Frosts Did Damage

Strawberries will be plentiful and early this year, according to the weekly bulletin issued by the Provincial Department of Agriculture. Gooseberries and red currants are in a forward condition, but there is no bloom yet on raspberries. The season, berries and blackberries. The season, while well advanced, was somewhat retarded by late frosts in April.

The Weekly News Letter for Vancouver Island and Gulf Islands is as follows:

The season is well advanced. March was an exceptionally mild month and considerable growth took place. April was very cold and backward, with heavy frosts on April 14 and 22, which caused considerable damage.

Sweet cherries, plums, Italian prunes, Olivet cherries and pears are all past the blooming period and the fruit is developing where there is a crop.

Some apples are still in bloom, and late blooming varieties, such as Northern Spy, are just coming into full bloom.

The fruit on gooseberries and red currants is a good size, while currants are going over the blooming period.

Marshall strawberries are in full bloom, while Magoons are fast approaching that condition. Paxtons are also in bloom.

Practically no bloom showing yet on raspberries, logans and blackberries.

Local rhubarb and asparagus have been on the market for a considerable time.

Greenhouse cucumbers and tomatoes are being shipped each day in fairly large quantities, the production to date being away ahead of 1923.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY TO VISIT MOUNT NEWTON

In connection with the Natural History Society field meeting to Mount Newton, Cameron & Calwell's tallyho leaves from near the Post-office at 2 p.m. sharp today. Those wishing to go should send in their names to Cameron & Calwell. The drive will be via Breed's crossroad to the trail from the West Saanich Road. The trail leads by an easy grade through most beautiful forest to the summit. Here a panoramic view is obtained. The historic Canal de Haro takes a turn to the northeast, and a clear waterway through which the international boundary line runs can be seen extending right into the Gulf of Georgia. The view is most comprehensive, and embraces much that is not seen from other elevations. Maps and charts will be produced, and the historic features of the prospect discussed. The native trees and flowers will be studied, and the return will be made by trail to the Mount Newton Cross-road, where the tallyho will await the party, and the return to the city will take place.

QUEEN OF SPORT

"TO THE QUEEN OF SPORT"

Victoria, Victoria,
The Island Port is the city of sport.
Tho' you far away
Have passed from your stay,
Still our green shores
Stretch their welcome to you.

CHORUS

To the Queen of Sport,
To the Queen of Sport,
We've been waiting for your coming
This town will soon be humming.

There will be no sport,
There will be no fun
Unless we know your coming
And the Carnivals begun.

Swimming, hunting, sport all the while,
Old folks young again—
See how they smile;
City of Victoria
Behold your Queen of Sport.

OBITUARIES

SAUNDERS—Service for the late Mrs. Eliza Saunders was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Chapel of the B.C. Funeral Co. by Rev. F. H. Fatt. Many friends were present, and the casket and hearse were covered with beautiful floral offerings. The hymns sung were "Peace, Perfect Peace," and "Abide With Me." The following members of the Foresters, of which Mr. Saunders was a member, acted as pallbearers: Messrs. A. Manson, H. Black, R. H. Harrop, A. Johnston, S. Scheis and J. H. Eccles. The remains were laid to rest at Ross Bay cemetery.

FIELDS—The funeral of the late William Milne Fields, who passed away at the family residence, 123 Cambridge Street, at an early hour Thursday morning, will take place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Rev. Dr. W. J. Sipprell will officiate, and the remains will be laid to rest at Royal Oak Burial Park. The late Mr. Fields was born in Newton, Yorkshire, England, eighty-three years ago, and is survived by his widow, four sons and one daughter.

FOXALL—The funeral of the late Amelia Foxall, who passed away at the family residence on Thursday evening, will take place this (Saturday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from McCall Bros.' Funeral Chapel, corner Johnson and Vancouver Streets. Rev. Clem Davies, D.D., will conduct the service, after which the remains will be laid to rest at Royal Oak Burial Park.

A Careful Minister

PEKING, May 16.—A box which an unidentified messenger brought today as a gift to Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese foreign minister, exploded and critically injured three servants whom the minister had ordered to open it. Dr. Koo, who was in another room of his residence, was unhurt.

Evidence Evades Garbage Sleuths

Mayor Gets Up Party to Investigate Question of Litter on Beaches —Search Reveals Horticultural Riffraff and Few Tin Cans, but Is Disappointing—Biggest Thrill Comes When Chief Magistrate Finds Half Grapefruit

"THERE'S half a grapefruit!" exclaimed Mayor Hayward, pointing in a southwesterly direction. The spirits of the newspaperman began to revive at the sight of the citrus delicacy floating near the breakwater. It looked as if there was going to be some garbage after all.

The newspaperman had understood that the party was primarily organized for a little detective job in connection with garbage. When Mayor Hayward, accompanied by his secretary, Mr. John Baxter, had hailed him in the corridor of the City Hall and invited him to come along, he had gained the distinct impression that this was to be a question of determining where the garbage on the waterfront came from. That there should be no garbage worthy of the name had not entered his head. For had it not been asserted by numerous people that garbage littered the beaches in such forms as carcasses, tin cans and obsolete fruit?

City Engineer Preston had admitted garbage, even though he had blamed it on steamers and not on the garbage scows. The newspaperman had understood that this was to be merely a matter of awarding a verdict either to the garbage scows or the steamers. Imagine, then, his chagrin, when he reached Dallas Road and sought in vain for garbage in ample portions.

Not a Thing

The first stop was at the Rithet docks. Peering over the edge of Pier Two, the party gazed down at the water in search of immigrant garbage secluding itself in the shadow of piles. Not a thing. Not even a tin can. Depressing. Even one of those wine lists would have helped.

The newspaperman felt that the breakwater would probably yield something. He had heard about covers of tin cans and other unwanted things that strayed in the water adjacent to the breakwater. The party stood on the long arm of concrete and again looked down. Kelp. Pieces of wood. Hah, a tin can. Another tin can. Two lemons. And at this point His Worship spotted the half grapefruit. It was felt by all that this grapefruit must be indicative of something, but no one could think of just what. Then Mr. Baxter located a large turnip smiling blandly on a smiling sea. The newspaperman had seen both flotsam and jetsam and his morale was being resuscitated.

Perhaps Another Time

His enthusiasm, however, could not live on a turnip, two lemons and a half grapefruit, and there was little else so far as the party could see between the breakwater and Ross Bay. Mr. Baxter was sceptical from the first. He claimed that the wind was in the wrong direction. Mr. Baxter believed that this was not a favorable day for seeing garbage on the beach, and his fellow travelers agreed with him. The beaches were disgustingly clean. A few more tin cans here and there. That was about all. And so the expedition of yesterday afternoon neither adds nor takes away from that absorbing argument as to whether it is the garbage scows or the steamers, but Mayor Hayward says he will go back some time when the wind is in another direction.

LABOR ORGANIZES

Supporters of the newly-formed Canadian Labor Party assembled at the K. of P. Hall last night and formed a Victoria branch of the organization. About sixty people were present, some as individuals and others as delegates from labor locals here. As the latter could speak for their associations only after reporting back to them, it was decided to postpone the selection of candidates to run in the forthcoming election until next Monday, when a second meeting will be held. Mr. H. Cotterill, of Vancouver, representing the Dominion Party, occupied the chair during the process of organization, and was subsequently succeeded by Mr. William Moulton, of Victoria, named temporary chairman. Well-known labor figures present included Mr. W. E. Peirce, who ran here in the last Provincial election, and Mr. J. H. Hawthornthwaite, one-time Labor member for Newcastle.

MORE NEWSPAPERS TO BE PLACED IN FLAGSTAFF BALL

The question has been settled, but for a time there was some pondering as to what should be placed in the metal ball which is to be again set on top of the Beacon Hill flagstaff.

The old newspapers and the letters which were found in the ball when it was opened recently after being in place many years will be put back, together with current copies of both the local papers. It can be stated definitely that the cigar which was to have gone to the opener of the ball will not be put back. It has disappeared. Perhaps a new cigar will take its place.

Some repairs are being made to the flagstaff, the top of which will be cut off because of its condition. Then the ball will be put back, but it is prophesied that it will not be very long before the old pole will have to come down altogether.

DR. WM. MASON DIES SUDDENLY

Dentist Succumbs to Effects of Paralytic Stroke—Was Well Known in the City

Victoria has lost a well-known dental practitioner in the death of Dr. William Mason, head of the dental clinic of the city schools, who passed away on Thursday night after only a few days' illness. Dr. Mason was stricken with a paralytic stroke on Monday last, and succumbed to the effects a few days later.

A prominent professional man in the city, and highly respected by the wide circle of friends that he possessed, Dr. Mason's death will be learned with deep sorrow.

He was born in 1871 at Leicester, Ontario, and came West thirty years ago. He first settled in Nanaimo, where he practised for many years. In 1911 he moved with his family to Victoria, where he had resided since. For some years he was associated with Dr. Lewis Hall. On the outbreak of war Dr. Mason joined the Dental Corps, and, being too old for overseas service, was placed in charge of the local detachment. At the conclusion of this work he again entered private practice, relinquishing that on his appointment as school dentist. He was a member of Vancouver and Quadra Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Jack, and a daughter, Phyllis, at home; also five brothers and sisters, Daniel Mason, Oakville, Ont.; the Misses Annie and May Mason, of Harrow, Ont.; Rev. Edward Mason, of Stonewall, Man., and George Mason, of Grimsby, Ont.

The remains are reposing at the B.C. Funeral Chapel, and the funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Better Health

THESE remarkable reports are typical of thousands of similar tributes to Fleischmann's Yeast.

There is nothing mysterious about its action. It is not a "cure-all," not a medicine in any sense. But when the body is choked with the poisons of constipation—or when its vitality is low so that skin, stomach and general health are affected—this simple, natural food achieves literally amazing results.

Concentrated in every cake of Fleischmann's Yeast are millions of tiny yeast-plants, alive and active. At once they go to work—invigorating the whole system, clearing the skin, aiding digestion, strengthening the intestinal muscles and making them healthy and active. Health is yours once more.

"WHEN all the other girls were wearing their first low-necked dresses, I was staying at home—all on account of a breaking-out on my back that I simply couldn't get rid of. Dad is a druggist so I tried all the medicated soaps and creams that he had in stock, but I finally gave up. It was awful. One day my chum told me about Fleischmann's Yeast and urged me to take it. I took half a cake dissolved in water before every meal—it is not only easy to take but delightful—and in two weeks every trace of the eruption had disappeared. It worked like magic, really, and made me feel like a different person."

(A letter from Miss Esther Shaw of Sanford, Calif.)

"AT the age of forty I found myself slipping in health. I was troubled with indigestion, constipation and nervous debility. I had read about people taking Fleischmann's Yeast, and ordered some. A while later, in answer to a friend's inquiry, I was surprised to hear myself reply, 'I feel like a prize-fighter' and realized then that I had not felt any sign of indigestion for some time, and was putting in ten to twelve hours' hard brain work daily. I knew I was back again."

(A letter from Mr. W. L. King of Washington, D. C.

"WHEN I commenced to eat yeast about two years ago, I was the grouchiest grouch that ever nursed a grouch. My complexion looked the color of bread dough and I realized that my Nemesis was that curse of mankind—constipation. About every cathartic on the market went through my system. My grocer suggested that I give Fleischmann's Yeast a trial. Since I began eating it my bowels function perfectly night and morning—the proverbial kitten has nothing on me for sound slumber. I do not claim Yeast to be a universal 'cure-all'—but it certainly gave me an excellent start on the road to health."

(A letter from Mr. Cyril A. Gendermann of 1022 Tenth Avenue, Brooklyn)

"CAME a period of real worry; of haphazard living; of irregular sleep and diet. The result . . . a distressing case of nerves . . . misery from my digestive system, a rough and unclear skin. When someone suggested yeast I laughed. . . . Secretly I tried it, and now, knowing how simple the remedy, I laugh at nerves, scorn a skin that is not smooth and clear, and find my digestive system a thing to be ignored."

(Mrs. Betty Knight of Los Angeles, Calif.)

"THIS is what the doctor told me, 'Your husband is run down; . . . he has overworked and eaten so irregularly, and taken so little notice of his physical condition that now he is a very sick man.' . . . At the end of the second week's yeast treatment digestion was improved, and constipation relieved. For six months he ate three cakes each day, and no doubt he owes his complete recovery to the fact that he was so steadfast in following this treatment."

(Mrs. St. Chrisman of Richmond, Indiana)

Dissolve one cake in a glass of water (just hot enough to drink)

—before breakfast and at bedtime. Fleischmann's Yeast, when taken this way, is especially effective in overcoming or preventing constipation.

Or eat 2 or 3 cakes a day—spread on bread or crackers—dissolved in fruit juices or milk—or eat it plain.

Fleischmann's Yeast comes only in the tinfoil package—it cannot be purchased in tablet form. All grocers have it. Start eating it today! A few days' supply will keep as well in your ice box as in the grocer's. Write us for further information or for a free copy of our latest booklet on Yeast for Health. Has Another Plan—Another plan for the formation of a company here to take over the reverted lands of the city and dispose of them has been received at the City Hall from a local real estate agent and will come before the City Council on Monday night. It was sent to the reverted lands committee, which did not consider it at its meeting on Thursday afternoon, however, but decided to hand it over to the council. The proposal is to invite all taxpayers to purchase stock in the company.

Malahat Open to Traffic—On the opening of the Malahat Drive to traffic, the request has been received by the Automobile Club of B.C. from the Department of Public Works to urge members, and in fact all motorists, to drive slowly over the new work for a period in order that the best results may be obtained from the oiling process. With the hot weather prevailing the surface will be found somewhat soft and sticky, and it is to the advantage of the motorist as well that he exercise extreme care in passing over this section of road for a few weeks.

The proposed reunion gathering of former pupils and teachers of the Cathedral Sunday school, since the early days, will be held on the same date and in co-operation with the garden fete. Owing to the dance and card game being held at the K. of P. Hall on May 19, there will not be a military five hundred at the Community Hall that evening, but another and the final game will be held in the Community Hall Monday, May 26, commencing at 8:30. There will be extra prizes for this end of the season game.

Gives Sooke Programme—Under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of Sooke and in aid of their funds, Miss Clare Powell last Friday evening gave a delightful recital of musical and dramatic numbers. Exceptional interest was taken in the affair owing to the fact that two of the performers belong to the district, Miss F. Muir, a promising pupil of Miss Powell, and Mr. Cartwright, violinist. Miss Lucille Hume, another pupil of Miss Powell's, pleased the audience very much with some pretty recitations and a dance, and Mr. F. Bowley Turner, the chairman, supplemented the duties of his office by giving some amusing anecdotes, also accompanying Mr. Colquhoun in some popular vocal numbers which the latter sang. Miss Powell herself gave fewer contributions than is her wont, owing to a cold, but her group of monologues was very cordially received. She also acted as accompanist for Mr. Cartwright.

ously contended that the commission had the right to oust Parliament and pass upon the question of whether or not Hon. W. S. Fielding should have had the Home Bank inspected, he asked.

Mr. Fielding was responsible to Parliament and to no other tribunal. Sir Henry Drayton and he were in exactly the same position.

Sir Thomas referred to the payment of $1,500 to him shortly before the bank failed, claiming that the way the story of this payment had been given out was unfair to him. The impression had been created in certain quarters that he had received this retainer as a minister, instead of receiving it nearly four years after he had resigned office, he said.

"That is what I call hitting below the belt," he remarked. An impression also had been created that he had carried off his private file of correspondence in regard to the Home Bank when he resigned from office. This was absolutely false.

Sir Thomas contended that if he had closed up the Home Bank in 1916, the year when the complaints of the Western directors were made, an agitation would have resulted which would have been second only to that of today. It took years to build up the good will of a bank, and only a day to wreck it, he said. You did not close up a bank even if it had lost half of its capital, if it had a good chance of recovering.

Sir Thomas opened his case following the completion of argument on behalf of the depositors. He will continue on Monday morning, when the commission resumes. Following his argument, it is expected that M. N. Reid, who is appearing for the shareholders, will speak briefly.

The case for the Government will then be argued by E. Lafleur, K.C., and H. J. Symington, K.C. It is expected that sittings will last all of Monday and part of Tuesday at least.

Social Events

B.C. Telephone Ladies Hosts

The young ladies of the B.C. Telephone Company were charming hostesses at a dance held last night at the Alexandra House, and attended by over two hundred guests. This dance, which was a most successful undertaking, was the last social function of the season, and the enjoyment of the guests reflects great credit on the organizing ability of Miss E. Trickey, who convened the affair, which commenced at 9 o'clock, and terminated after 1 a.m. Ozard's five-piece orchestra was in attendance and supplied a splendid programme of music. Shortly after 11 o'clock supper was served in the dining-room, which was prettily decorated with branches and sprays of golden broom. The ballroom was also effectively decorated with broom, which was entwined in wreaths, centred with telephones, forming a novel and attractive form of decoration for the occasion. Among the out-of-town guests who attended the dance was Mr. Jack, of Vancouver, district traffic superintendent.

Hawthorne Circle Tea

A very enjoyable, and attended by a large number of guests, was the silver tea held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Conyers, 1419 Fort Street, in aid of the Hawthorne Circle, King's Daughters. A charming feature of the affair was the presentation of a lovely basket of flowers by the members of the circle to Mrs. James Stewart, who has held the position of president of the circle for for several years. Miss Rennie, a charter member, was also presented with a corsage bouquet. A delightful programme was carried out, including a sword dance performed by Miss Ferguson, solos by Mr. Conyers, and pianoforte selections by Miss Polson. The tea table, which was prettily decorated with tulle streamers suspended from the chandelier to the four corners of the table, and centred with anemones, was presided over by Miss Rennie and Mrs. Campbell.

Honors Miss Wormald

In honor of Miss Joyce Wormald, queen of state, members of the police department and of the fire department held a very enjoyable dance last night at the Pingard Street headquarters. There was a large attendance of guests present, and several novel dances added much to the pleasure of the guests, who thoroughly appreciated the music supplied by Fairey's orchestra. Constable Arthur Bishop officiated as master of ceremonies, and gave a very stirring speech on behalf of Miss Wormald, queen of state, who was charmingly gowned in French blue shot taffeta, with girdle of silver, and silver bandeau.

BELLINGHAM BANDS MAY CANCEL VISIT

MAY 24 ARRANGEMENTS HERE DISAPPOINT AMERICANS

Princess Alice Will Bring Excursion Here, But Visitors Will Arrive to Find Parade Over

The fact that the May 24 parade will be a morning event on the celebration programme may cause two Bellingham bands to abandon their plans to come to Victoria for the holiday, the Bellingham agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway has informed the B.C. Coast Service office here.

The bands had expected to make the trip on the Princess Alice, which the Canadian Pacific will run as an excursion steamer from Bellingham to Victoria and back again to the American city on May 24. The vessel will reach here from Bellingham with her excursionists shortly after noon, too late for the Bellingham people to see the parade, much less to take part in it. As the bands had intended to march in the parade, they are now reluctant to make the trip on learning that it will be over before they reach the city.

The bandsmen's visit to Victoria was to be financed by Bellingham business men, anxious to respond to this city's friendly action in sending a band and a float to Bellingham for their parade several weeks ago. They discovered to their disappointment that the bands could not get here until late in the day by traveling on the Motor Princess, and hailed with delight the later announcement of the Princess Alice excursion. Now that it is found that the parade will be over before the steamer arrives, there is much regret in Bellingham, and the bands are thinking of giving up their trip.

NEW RADIOLOGIST NAMED FOR JUBILEE

Dr. W. M. Carr, of Winnipeg General, Will Succeed Dr. Warren, Who Goes to Los Angeles

A new radiologist, Dr. W. M. Carr, has been appointed by the Jubilee Hospital Board to take over the X-ray department of that institution as from June 1 or as near that date as possible.

The appointment of a new radiologist became necessary through the resignation of Dr. Warren, who has accepted an appointment in Los Angeles. He has held the position since Dr. Poyntz left here about a year ago, and Dr. Pierce, medical superintendent of the hospital, in reporting the matter to the board at its regular meeting last evening, stated that Dr. Warren's resignation was a serious loss to the hospital, as he had filled the position most efficiently. Accepting the resignation with regret the board supplemented the superintendent's testimony by instructing the secretary to write a letter of appreciation of his services to the retiring radiologist.

Dr. Carr, the new appointee, has held the position of radiologist at the Winnipeg General Hospital for some time, and has excellent recommendations from specialists in this work, whose opinion the board values.

Premier King cannot withstand the defection of men of this calibre and position. Joined with those who either by vote, retirement or other methods, condemned his policy, were such men who did not vote as S. W. Jacobs, Montreal, who left Ottawa after declaring he would not support the Liberal fiscal policy; Hon. Charles Marcil, a former Speaker, who has made no explanation of his action; C. A. Fournier, of Bellechasse, and Manley Chew, East Simcoe, are equally reticent on not coming to their party's assistance. Two Ministers, Hon. Charles Murphy, and Hon. Jacques Bureau, were absent, the former through ill health, and the latter for some unknown reason. He has been in a hostile mood with the Prime Minister for some days, and this may account for his failure to register his vote in support of the Government's policy.

The closing hours of the debate were uninteresting. Four Progressives insisted on talking, and delayed the vote until seven this morning. Hon. E. Macdonald, in violation of an agreement reached, entered the debate, but talked to an almost empty house except a few who slumbered awaiting the call to vote.

The Woodsworth amendment calling for lower duties on certain necessities was defeated by 204 to 16. The supporters were all from the Progressives, including Woodsworth and Irvine, Labor members. Another was Miss Agnes McPhail. On the main budget resolution the vote was 165 to 53, all the Progressives but William Elliot, South Waterloo, supporting the Government, and Messrs. Marler, McCrea, Euler and Raymond, Liberals, joining with the Conservatives.

Government supporters admit their party is badly shattered. They claim they can hold on by virtue of the Progressive support, who fear an election equally with the Government. It is a most astounding situation, with the Government defeated in by-elections, deserted by its ablest men, and a numerically minority party holding office by the grace of a group pledged to a policy so radical as to be unacceptable to a majority of the Liberals left behind the Premier. Nothing but an election will clear the political situation, and if it were a Macdonald, a Laurier, a Borden or a Meighen in office under such conditions Parliament would be dissolved within a week, but Premier King loves office and announces he will remain in it without regard to popular or party manifestations of dissatisfaction.

RATEPAYERS ASK QUESTIONS; SAANICH COUNCIL MYSTIFIED

Some weeks ago the Central Ratepayers' Association asked the council for information concerning the past actions of the Saanich police commission, and last night they submitted another list of questions about the same body and the business of the municipality controlled by it. The general opinion of the council appeared to be that the association was taking up the time of the council on a wild goose chase. Councillor Vantreight suggested that perhaps some of the members had been "pinched" by the police department for speeding and had adopted the inquiry method of getting even.

"What is it all about?" asked Councillor Hagan. "Do they think there is some crooked work going on?"

Councillor Graham intimated that he knew all about it, and Councillors Hagan and Vantreight immediately pressed him for enlightenment, which was not forthcoming.

A decision was made to supply the information requested and at the same time to ask the Ratepayers' Association to consider the report a final one.

MRS. LINDQUIST TELLS WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her

Kansas City, Mo.—"I was left in a very serious condition after childbirth and no one thought I could ever be any better. Then came the 'Change of Life' and I was not prepared for what I had to suffer. I had to go to bed at times to be perfectly quiet as I could not even stoop down to pick anything from the floor. I did not suffer any pain, but I was decidedly nervous and could not sleep. For nearly two years I was this way, and the doctor was frank enough to tell me that he could do no more for me. Shortly after this I happened to see in a newspaper an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a few days the medicine was in the house and I had begun its use and I took it regularly until I was well. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to others when I have the opportunity."—Mrs. MAY LINDQUIST, 2814 Independence Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Lucretia Lombard

A Story of Flaming Passion

By Kathleen Norris

CHAPTER XLV.
Coincidence or Fate?

Lucretia, meanwhile, had gone into her bedroom and shut the door. For almost an hour she sat motionless, staring straight ahead of her into space, until the early afternoon sun crept round to the brick wall of St. Thomas', and the glare hurt her dry, aching eyes.

"So," she said, softly and audibly then, "that's the way it's going to be."

She got lamely and slowly to her feet, brushed the gold mist of hair from her eyes, looked irresolutely at the suit-case that was opened upon the bare mattress of the bed, and somewhat dazedly began to add certain small articles from the dressing-table to its contents.

"I will not die, and I will not kill myself," she said, out loud, after awhile, "and, I'm not twenty-nine. Thirty-nine, forty-nine, fifty-nine—!" At fifty-nine perhaps I shall not care. We might have grandchildren then, a big country house with porches and trees, and our children's children coming to us for the holidays.

"But that," she added, in a quiet, unemotional voice, "was not to be. No. He and Mimi are married—"

She finished her packing, brushed up her bright hair, pressed the white hat down over it, and slipped into her loose white coat.

"I must get away! But where can I go? I can't stay here—I can't stay in this room! But if I should go somewhere and be ill, if I should be ill—and I might!—Mrs. Gunther would take care of me," she murmured, feverishly. "She expects me back today, anyway. I'll go back. I can plan there. And if I should be ill—she would protect me—I can go on the 4 o'clock train. If I cry there—nobody need see it. I can stay in bed." When she was seated in the train, after an hour or two that seemed to have left no record in her memory, she opened her magazine, and studied a full-page photograph of a sixteen-year-old theatrical star. "Sixteen years old, and a salary bigger than the President's! She's pretty—I wonder what life will mean to her at twenty-nine!"

The train hammered on, in dust and heat. A yellow glare seemed to envelop the rocking car. Villages swam by, shabby in mid-Summer heat. Toward the north, the blue haze of the distant fires added one more note of heat to the whole.

Lucretia pinned her veil, to descend at Farley's eager for a breath of mountain air. It was while she was standing in the car watching the bags that were being hastily assembled by the porter, that glancing casually down the littered aisle, she first saw Mimi.

Mimi's chair was only some ten feet away; she was lying back in it, bare-headed, and with closed eyes. Her dark hair was in some disorder, and her face white, and stained quite unmistakably with tears.

Lucretia did not know why, but she did not want Mimi to see her; if Mimi was wounded, she was wounded, too; this was no time for them to meet.

"She feels terribly," Lucretia though, getting into the Gunther surrey with an absent greeting for the expectant old driver. "Poor child, she feels terribly. She has found out in some way! She is running away from him! It can be nothing else."

The thought was followed by another. Who would be at the cabin when Mimi got there? Not Stephen, not Fred, not the Rutgers. She would be all alone, with the old Italian servant. Lucretia felt a pang of terror. She was not going to kill herself?

"Surely not, sane little Mimi." But there had been a lot of desperate anguish upon the white face. Lucretia felt the first twist of uneasiness grip her.

She wanted no supper; she stood in the dining-room door only for a moment, shaking her head, with a great wave of distaste, at the mere thought of the wilted salad and the boiled rice. Food would choke her.

Life was all a pain and a bewilderment. Stephen—Mimi—herself; the triangle melted and formed, melted and formed again endlessly, in her mind. It was sunset when a sudden impulse seized her, and she told Mrs. Gunther that she was going to walk over the hill to Red Pine.

"You ain't going to walk over the mountain tonight!" the old lady said, incredulously.

"I think I will. There's an hour of daylight left. Anyway, the fires are almost close enough to give their own light tonight! And there will be a moon."

"They've got that fire under control," a man said.

"So I understand. We saw some fighters coming back when we drove up tonight." Lucretia pinned her broad-brimmed hat. To see Mimi, to talk to her, whether she knew anything or not, was something definite.

Mimi did understand, of course. Was there any other conceivable construction to place upon her ashen, tear-stained face, upon her running away from her uncle, and the man to whom she had been married a few hours ago?

Up the mountain road, in the warm light, went Lucretia, taking the six miles steadily, almost without thought of any effort. The road grew brighter at the top of the hill, and she could see the twilight beginning to blend with the dull pink glow of fire far away.

The cabins stood in a clearing, and there was still clear and shadowless twilight about them. Not a breath of air stirred. About the place as Lucretia came down the woodland road toward it lingered an unnatural silence.

She called, standing still in the garden:

"Mimi! Matea!"

There was absolute silence. A bat looped the dusk. Some sleepy bird broke the stillness with a muffled, drowsy chuckle, under leaves.

Lucretia felt frightened. She went up the steps, pushed open a screen door, stepped into the warm, dark interior. Her heart stopped beating. She caught the unmistakable sound of muffled sobbing.

She went swiftly toward a bedroom door, and saw a girl's figure outlined against the dim square of pale gray that was the bedspread.

Timidly Lucretia went to stand beside her, touched her shoulder.

"Mimi—it's Lucretia."

STRONG FEELING AGAINST OTTAWA

be made to local business men to rally to the support of the committee with financial aid.

Mr. Percy Watson reported that Mr. C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, had told him further financial aid could not be expected from the Chamber. Mr. Watson thought that pressure should be brought to bear on the Chamber to elicit support.

"The Chamber is more closely in touch with industrial people who will benefit by the visit of the fleet, and who ought therefore to help pay the expense of entertaining it," he said.

Mr. Vincent McKenna suggested that the Retail Merchants' Association should be asked for a contribution.

"On this occasion the business men are going to reap a harvest," he said. "They should be asked to share the expense."

But, following the discussion of Mayor Hayward, no action followed the proposal.

Withdraw Offer

A letter was read from the Vancouver office of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company withdrawing its original offer of free transportation on street cars for the sailors visiting both cities, and stating that the privilege would only be extended in Vancouver.

The committee determined to present new facts to the railway officials in an effort to persuade them to reverse their decision.

Chief of Police Fry, chairman of accommodations committee, reported that local hotel men are quite confident of their ability to handle all visitors to the city during the fleet's visit. The hotel men did not expect any influx of visitors from Vancouver or from the States, he said, and thought that residents of the Island north of Duncan would visit the fleet at Vancouver rather than at Victoria. In accord with this view, he did not think that his committee need take any extreme steps.

It was announced that the Lieutenant-Governor will tender a ball to the officers of the fleet on the night of June 23. The citizens' ball to the officers will be given on the following night.

To Make Tour

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Consent of Ottawa for a tour of naval men as far east as Winnipeg while the fleet is in British Columbia waters has been obtained, according to a wire which Acting Mayor Almond received this morning from Mayor W. R. Owen, who is in Toronto on his was west.

The plans are to have 40 officers and 250 men of the fleet make the trip east over the Canadian National Railway and return to Vancouver via the Canadian Pacific.

Calgary, Edmonton and Winnipeg will also have a royal reception ready for the sailors.

WOULD USE BEER MONEY FOR BABIES

he believed that Mr. Pauline was interested in the loganjuice plant.

Encourage British Capital

In comparison with his opponent's plea for industrial development, the speaker said that he himself had brought into the country $200,000 spot cash for investment, which was giving employment to about 140 men during the last three months. While American capital was liked here, British capital should be induced to come in, but it would be hard to secure British money to invest here until taxation was brought down and a government which was the most extravagant per capita of any in Canada was driven from power.

The speaker declared that Mr. Pauline had not secured for Saanich as much as he should have, as a member on the Government side of the House. He mentioned that between the years 1912-1916, when a Conservative Government was in office, the sum of $86,476 was spent on roads and paving in Saanich. From 1918 to 1923, with the Liberals in power, the amount expended in the district on the roads and paving was only $37,300. He told of over one million dollars having been spent in the Delta riding in six or seven years, stating that if a cabinet minister could get so much greater appropriation for roads and paving than a private member, then, if elected, he would raise his voice against it.

In conclusion, Hon. Mr. Coventry promised that he would, if elected to represent Saanich—which he said he would be, the remark being greeted with prolonged applause—he would, after each session, come back to the electors and tell them what he had done in the Legislature.

Mr. Joshua Hinchliffe

Mr. Joshua Hinchliffe, M.P.P. for Victoria, declared that when the Conservative party was placed in power it would see that the rights of the people were guarded, that a sane educational policy would be adopted, and the natural resources be taken care of to such an extent that the advantages would be to the people of British Columbia, and not those of outside places.

The speaker referred to the failure of third parties in Canada, and said surely the people of British Columbia would rather profit in this regard from the experience of others than buy their experience. He charged that behind the Third party really stood foreign lumber interests. He urged that all co-operate to place the Province on a sound basis, relieve the overburdened taxpayer, and make British Columbia the most prosperous Province in Canada.

MUNICIPALITY WILL RUN STREET LIGHTS

Move to Charge Saanich Wards With Own Lighting Costs—Councillors Discuss Alternative Plans

The motion presented to the Saanich Council last night by Councillor Kirkham that all future costs for electric lights and repairs be charged against the respective wards caused some heated discussion. At the request of one of the councillors, the approximate list of existing lights was given: Ward one, six lights; ward two, seventeen; ward three, none; ward four, four; ward five, two; ward six, two; ward seven, eighteen lights.

Councillor Kirkham thought that while Saanich was operated under the ward system, cost of utilities to the fullest possible extent should be charged against the wards so that the areas receiving the most benefit should pay the most for it. Councillor Graham disagreed. He thought that street lights gave as universal a service as did the paved roads, and consequently should be supported by the whole municipality irrespective of their location.

Reeve Macnicol pointed out that it had been the custom during the past two years for the wards to contribute the capital charge for their lights, and the municipality as a whole to defray the operation and upkeep charges.

Councillor Simpson said he favored the opinion advanced by Councillor Graham, of the seventh ward. Travelers residing in the outer wards and going to and from Victoria, passed through the inner wards and received the benefit of the street lighting systems there, he said.

Put to a vote the motion was lost, and it was decided to devote the $2,000 set aside in the estimates to cover lighting, to the various wards on the ratio of lights operating in each ward.

A Fuel Broadcast!

I "listened in" to an interesting broadcast the other night.

The man talked of the family budget.

He said the biggest expense was food.

Then came rent.

Then came fuel. That's certainly true in Canada. We keep furnaces going 6 months of the year. And we use electricity, gas, coal or wood every day for cooking.

He pointed out that fuel was one of the few things that had come down very little since the war, and that every effort should be made by householders to reduce the consumption of this expensive article.

We make things that use fuel to cook with and to heat with.

One of the outstanding features of our business is our ceaseless endeavor to make our equipment more and more economical on fuel.

Modern Gurney Stoves and modern Gurney Furnaces are like modern autos. They burn less fuel than the old kind.

Suppose one of the new Gurney Hot Water Systems cut your fuel bill 20%? It would not be long before it paid for itself. It would be a profitable investment for you.

The Gurney Hot Water System is noted for its economy of operation. It is very easy on fuel. Our fire-pot, grates and water sections make the best use of all the heat produced from the coal—conserve heat, do not waste it. The Patented Gurney Economizer, that works like the throttle on a steam engine, enables you to control the fire perfectly in all kinds of weather and prevents waste of fuel.

Gurney Coal and Wood Ranges, Gurney Gas Ranges and Gurney Electric Ranges are, also, designed to be easy on fuel and to cook and bake perfectly.

We have interesting booklets describing "Gurney" products that I would be glad to send to anyone who desires to heat the home, or cook, with economy. Just clip out, fill in and mail the coupon below, checking off the booklets you want.

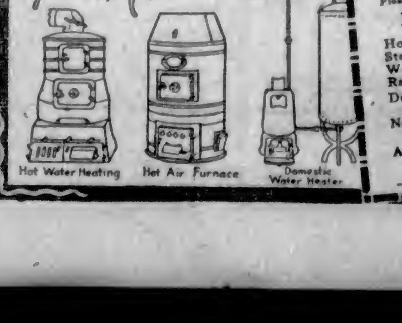

Yours for economy,

Holt Gurney

Soccer Offside Is Perennial Problem

Many Alterations Suggested But Legislators Not Anxious to Tinker With Laws of the Game—Newcastle United Draws Unstinted Praise for Victory Over Aston Villa in English Cup Final

By A. B. BROWN

THE offside law in soccer football is one of those problems that give rise to animated discussions, not only on the playing fields, but also in many quarters where football enthusiasts are eager to debate on the pros and cons of the subject. As a rule, football legislators are not keen on altering the laws of the game, although not so conservative on this point in comparison with their cricket authorities.

First Simplification

The first real step to simplify the offside "bogey" was taken when the International Board inserted a clause that a player could not be given as out of play in his own half of the field, irrespective of the position of the opposing backs.

Then another concession was granted in that a player could not be given offside when playing the ball following a throw-in.

The Board later attempted to pass a ruling that a player could not be pulled up for offside in playing the ball after a free kick was taken, but this point was not carried.

A Scottish Proposal

The Scottish Football Association brought forward a proposal last year that a player could not be ruled out of play within forty yards of his opponents' goal, but this also failed to carry.

This year, again, the Scots will bring up the forty-yards area proposition at the meeting of the International Board in London on June 14.

The Scots, too, are sponsoring a proposal that a goal scored direct from a corner-kick, place-kick or goal-kick become law.

English Objection

The Council of the English Football Association was against the Scottish forty-yards area last year, has again decided to refuse their support to any amendments put forward by the Thistle representatives.

Scotland also desire to make footnote to Law xiii read as follows:

"The game shall not be stopped for injury to a player until the ball has ceased to be in play, when the injured player shall at once be removed from the field of play and game resumed."

The English Council did not approve of such an alteration in that form, but thought that the principle involved should be discussed by the Board for the purpose of preventing the evasions which are possible under the existing rule and its application by the referee.

Almost without exception, the football critics in the Old Country give Newcastle United unstinted praise for their 2-0 victory over Aston Villa in the English Cup final.

"Last year the overpowering crowd supplied the thrills of the day," says one writer, "but this time the players furnished sport of a sensational character, for just as time was ebbing away, and there were visions of an extra half-hour and a possibility of a replay, Newcastle United, with great vitality and with tremendous dash, decided the issue in the last five minutes.

"This was a denouement of dramatic intensity, and lest the reader should surmise that it was a snap victory and undeserved, let it be said at once that the United reaped the rich reward of sustained thrill, splendid stamina, supreme perseverence and self-possession.

"They had to fight throughout the first half, not only to keep their goal intact, but to prevent themselves being overwhelmed.

Change in Game

"Prior to the interval Aston Villa not only showed the better football, but infinitely superior combination. Their movements were never excelled by the United or themselves after ends were changed.

"After half-time, however, Newcastle seemed determined to smash up the advances of their opponents. Their half-backs were so good that they succeeded to a degree that they could hardly have expected.

"The longer Newcastle played the more confident they became. The change was largely due to constant intervention of the United half-backs.

"Taking the match all through, the defence of the rivals was very sound indeed, and this encouraged the idea that the contest would be barren of goals. But the continued raids of Newcastle at last found a chink in the Villa armor, and once the point of the rapier had penetrated there was another fatal thrust within two and a half minutes.

No More Stage Fright

"The victory will long be remembered on Tyneside, not only for the overthrow of the favorites, but because the Newcastle team scattered to the winds the reputation for stage fright which they earned by unbroken failure at the Crystal Palace.

"Not by any stretch of imagination can it be said that Newcastle played in the ornate style of twenty years ago. They exchanged elaboration for the plain work, for a paying policy and direct method, with the goal as their objective.

"The Villa men were mastered. The fall of their goal was long delayed, but it was complete."

The attendance at the final was officially given as 105,000 spectators. Adding these figures to the totals for each of the preceding rounds, there must have been upwards of two and a half million people attracted to the various ties.

Scottish League Details

In comparing the work of the Scottish League first division clubs for 1922-23 and the season just ended, the following interesting details are gleaned:

	This Year Points	Last Year Points
Rangers	59	55
Airdrieonians	50	50
Celtic	46	46
Raith Rovers	43	39
Dundee	43	41
St. Mirren	42	42
H'bernians	41	41
Partick Thistle	39	37
Hearts	38	37
Motherwell	37	36
Morton	37	35
Hamilton A.	36	29
Aberdeen	36	42
Ayr United	34	38
Falkirk	32	45
Kilmarnock	32	35
Queen's Park	31	24
Third Lanark	30	30
Clyde	29	33
Clydebank	25	23

Note—Queen's Park figures are compared with those of Albion Rovers, who dropped out of the first division last year, and Clydebank's with Alloa.

During the past season Rangers and Airdrieonians were the leading goal scorers, with 72 each, while the Rangers lost the least number, 22. Aberdeen were the lowest goal getters with 37 in 38 matches.

Five clubs each earned the same number of points in the past two seasons — Airdrieonians, Celtic, St. Mirren, Hibernians and Third Lanark.

Famous Club's Decline

There is perhaps nothing more pathetic, in soccer football, at least, than to witness a decline of a once famous club. This is especially the case this year in Scotland, when the Vale of Leven has dropped out of the second division into the third section along with Lochgelly United.

The new-comers are Arthurlie (46 points), and East Sterlingshire (42), the first and second clubs in the third division. This is the first year of the third group.

Vale of Leven

In the days prior to professionalism in Scottish football, the Vale of Leven, Dumbarton and Renton clubs were among the best in the country; indeed, they were the best, barring Queen's Park.

When the Scottish Cup was inaugurated, the Queen's Park Club annexed the trophy two years in succession. Then the Vale of Leven sprang into prominence, won the Cup in three consecutive years, and was the first Scottish club to beat the Queen's.

The Vale was one of the original members of the league, and now it has dropped down to the third section. Professionalism killed the three famous Dumbartonshire clubs.

Renton, one-time champions of the world, is no more. Dumbarton is struggling along in the second division, and now the Vale is under an eclipse.

Great players went out from the Leven Club in years gone by, such as John Forbes, the famous back, who went to Blackburn Rovers; James Cowan, of Aston Villa and international renown; James Wilson, a well-known international goalkeeper, etc. Indeed, the list could be carried on indefinitely. But changes come in football, just as in any other sport.

SOCCER TEAMS IN ACTION TONIGHT

ESQUIMALT CONNAUGHT CUP TEAM PLAYS GARRISON

Game Will Be Started at 6:15—Interesting Contest Expected Between Strong Elevens

The soccer game scheduled between the Esquimalt Connaught Cup team and the Garrison this evening at 6:15 should prove one of the fastest and most interesting of the season.

Both clubs have done well in their respective leagues, the Esquimalt boys being the first team to lower the Wests' colors in the Victoria and District League series. The Garrison has had a very successful season, finishing at the top of the Wednesday League table and established their superiority beyond question by defeating a picked team from the mid-week series by 3-1.

For the Connaught Cup series Esquimalt has secured the services of several of the best players in the city, namely Bell (Wards), Taylor (Wards), Humphries (Garrison), Ward (Garrison) and Mulcahy (Wests).

Local interest in the Connaught Cup series is very keen, since the Veterans took the Canadian Nationals into camp last week, and there should be a large number of fans at the game this evening to see how the Esquimalt cup team promises to fare in their first round with New Westminster next Saturday.

The game will be staged on behalf of Miss McAllister, Queen of Sport, who will personally kick off the ball at 6:15 p.m. at Royal Athletic Park. R. Alcock or F. Oliver will handle the whistle.

JUBILEE HANDICAP PROBABLE STARTERS

LONDON, May 16.—The Jubilee meeting at Kempton Park closes tomorrow with the running of the Jubilee Handicap over a mile and a quarter course, for a plate of 3,000 sovereigns, the feature event on the card. A field of thirteen is expected to start, with Lord Derby's Pharos and A. K. McComber's Perth, second and third in last year's Derby, carrying top weights.

The probable starters, with riders and weights, follow: Pharos (Weston), 121; Parth (O'Neil), 121; Verdict (Beary), 118; Kefalin (Archibald), 118; Twelve Pointer (Carslake), 116; Brownsylda (Hulme) 111; Soldumeno (Elliott), 105; Waygood (Jones), 104; Clochnabon (Donoghue), 102; Highlander (Smirke), 102; Polyphontes (Maclachland), 97; Marvex, 97; Crubenmore (Orme), 88.

UPLANDS GOLF CLUB

Championship Tournament Finals Will Be Played Today—Semi-Finals of Flights Decided

All finals in the ladies' championship tournament of the Upland Golf Club will be decided today. Mrs. Sanders and Miss K. Fraser are the finalists in the first flight, the former having won from Mrs. Nickson in the semi-finals by six and four, and the latter from Miss S. Fraser by five and four.

In the second round of the second flight Miss M. Fraser beat Mrs. Staden one up, and in the semi-finals of this flight Miss Wolfenden beat Miss Young four and two, and Miss M. Fraser beat Miss Fowkes nine and seven.

Competitors are arranging their own times for these final matches.

Ball Players Start Their Season Today

THE baseball season opens here today when Tom Davis, president of the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association, will do his best to put one over the plate at the Royal Athletic Park this afternoon at 3:30, in the opening game between the Tillicums and Automotives. One of the regular catchers may not be fast enough to stop Mr. Davis' fast curve, so Mayor Hayward will don the big mitt, mask and pads and see that nothing gets past him.

After these two notables have shown the regulars how it should be done, the teams will settle down to business and give the spectators their first glimpse of ball for the season.

From the line-ups given it will be seen that there will be some real ball dished up by the almon-pures this year, and it is expected that a good attendance will be on hand to give the boys a good send-off for the season. "Allie" McGregor will handle the game, and players are requested to be on hand and ready to commence sharp at 3:30.

Bays Holding First Regatta of Season

Victoria's Pioneer Athletic Association Making Great Effort to Popularize Rowing as Sport—Brentwood College Sending Four-Oared Crew for Race on May 24—Races This Afternoon Over Harbor Course

THE first regatta of the season in connection with the oldest and ever popular athletic association of Victoria, will take place today, commencing about 2:30 p.m. It is anticipated that this regatta will prove to be one of the best ever arranged by the J.B.A.A. For some time past, five crews have been undergoing hard training, and the new men this year are of the finest type. These crews have been under the special coaching of "Chief Engineer" E. Fisher, of the club's speed boat, "Blue Bird," with "Cap" Dan O'Sullivan aboard, and the association owes much to these men, whose interest is untiring in all that pertains to the club's welfare and progress. The ladies have also been very active in both sculling and rowing, preparing for the Victoria Day regatta, and the public may look forward with keen interest to seeing some fine races put on in connection with that event by the lady members of the J.B.A.A.

Active Committee

The house committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. H. L. Johnson, has shown great activity of late and is now undertaking the painting of the boathouse and canoe house in the club's colors, blue and white. To Mr. H. L. Johnson, with Messrs. Ed. Fisher, O. C. Wallis, Lee, Charlie S. Fraser, A. H. Fraser, A. Cudlip, B. Peden and S. A. Heron, who have all given a great deal of time in the interests of the association, the greatest amount of credit is due. Many new members are joining, realizing that they do not have to be expert oarsmen to belong to the J.B.A.A. and can secure through their membership free tuition in rowing, sculling, canoeing, etc., and many ladies are taking the opportunity of securing membership at half the annual dues for men, namely $5, in lieu of the regular male membership of $10 per annum. Basketball is an added attraction to membership, besides such sports as fives, badminton, billiards, pool, etc., in the club building, with its comfortable reading room, ornamented by a splendid collection of cups and trophies won by the club, such as any association might well be proud to possess.

The course for this first regatta of the season is from the shipyard to the boathouse, a stretch of three-quarters of a mile.

Excellent viewpoints for the races this afternoon are: The Grand Trunk wharf, C.P.R. wharf and the clubhouse.

All members of the J.B.A.A. (Victoria Rowing Club) and their friends have a cordial invitation to the association's float.

The following crews will take part:

First heat: H. L. Johnson (stroke), S. A. Heron (three), Ken Eaton (two) and T. Temple (bow), vs. W. Locke (stroke), J. Locke (three), H. McKie (two) and A. Speed (bow).

Second heat, 3:15 p.m.: A. H. Fraser (stroke), C. S. Fraser (three), E. Knapton (two) and O. C. Walls (bow), vs. A. Maclachlan (stroke), H. Cudlip (three), B. Peden (two) and R. Lees (bow).

The final heat will take place at 4:30 p.m.

Aboard the Blue Bird (speed boat of the J.B.A.A.)—Activities of the local oarsmen are in advance of previous years owing to good weather conditions, and the first regatta of the Victoria Rowing Club (J.B.A.A.) is looked forward to with no little interest. There are five good crews in training for the four-oared lap-streak races. This regatta has been put on as a tryout for the new men and to enable the boating committee to select the best men for the big regatta to take place in connection with May 24 celebrations. The new men are all of the finest type and make a splendid showing.

Brentwood Race

Great interest is being taken in the prospective race between Brentwood College and a crew from the Victoria Rowing Club, composed of High School boys. This crew has been in training for the past month, with heavy "tubbing" and short bursts of rowing. Out at 6 a.m. and during the evenings, The Brentwood College crew is in fine shape; likewise out before breakfast and is training in heavier boats.

The Victoria Rowing Club has extended an open invitation to the college oarsmen to use the club's showers, boats, gymnasium and dressing room. The college crew came in on Wednesday last and rowed over the course for a trial, the time being 4½ minutes (with the tide), the distance being three-quarters of a mile, finishing at the Gorge Bridge. They rowed very well, with power rather than style, which was undoubtedly due to the lack of having a coach boat. Their style, however, had improved since their last race against the Vancouver University crew.

Hard Steering

The Gorge course, with its many bays and points, is a very difficult one to steer and caused their bow men a considerable amount of worry. In style this crew is somewhat similar to the Vancouver University crew; blades close to the water and a "slice-in" beginning. The body swing is short and mostly leg drive. They row well together and work fearfully hard. There was a marked difference in the style of the High School crew. They row more easily and have a little better style, although there are many little faults to be corrected; the principal reason for many of them being the fact that the speed boat could not be launched in time to get out with them. Their body swing is better and blade work—the "catch"—is smarter. It is a pleasure to see the cordial relations existing between the rival crews, each seeming to resent any disadvantag that might occur to the other side.

This should prove to be the most popular race of the day.

Asia furnishes the largest quantity of meerschaum, from which pipes are made, but is also found in Spain and Greece.

Sportive Punches

By the "Old 'Un"

Ho! ho! ha! ha! likewise hee! hee! Excuse the Old 'Un registering risibility.

It's about that Olympic Rugby we were discussing yesterday. By a coincidence there has just come to our notice a suggested explanation of some things connected therewith, and the explanation is in an American paper. Here it is:

. . . . . .

"Sometimes there is method in our madness. So, possibly, was the case last week when Sam Goodman, manager of the American Olympic Games Rugby team, protested the referee and threatened to withdraw his team from competition because of the row over the taking of pictures.

. . . . . .

"Up to that time the Rugby competition hadn't been figuring prominently on the sporting pages. As a game, it is not widely known in the United States, and the fans were not particularly concerned.

"But when international dissension threatened, the cables gave more space to the situation, and not a newspaper in the land but was running stories of what was happening or what might happen.

. . . . . .

"It unquestionably has made the Rugby championship more widely read than would otherwise have been the case.

. . . . . .

"QUITE POSSIBLY THERE WAS A SHREWD BIT OF ADVERTISING AND PUBLICITY—MORE SO THAN ANY REAL POSSIBILITY OF THE WITHDRAWAL OF THE AMERICAN FOOTBALLERS."

. . . . . .

And that's what tickled the Old 'Un's funny-bone, and he didn't laugh altogether in ridicule. By no means.

Sam Goodman, whatever else he is, must surely be a Rugby enthusiast. Maybe some of us other Rugby enthusiasts are ultra-conservative. Sam has big ideas. What is a little international dissension if the great game gets a real boost?

I hope you all noticed that paragraph in yesterday's paper about WHITCOMBE, the golf professional of Lansdowne, Bath, ENGLAND.

. . . . . .

ONE OVER FOURS FOR 72 HOLES! YE GODS AND ICTHYOMORPHOUS DIMINUTIVES!

. . . . . .

Hope there are some other Balhonians here who noticed it besides the Old 'Un. In his day there weren't any links on Lansdowne. Just a very beautiful cemetery, Beckford's Monument, a real old-fashioned racecourse, and an ancient battlefield, where we youngsters used to hunt for arrowheads.

Even to this day one hears in imagination the shouts of those old-fashioned bookies on that old-fashioned racecourse. "Two to one, bar one! Evens on the field!"

. . . . . .

We're mere pious out here. We do our betting by machinery (when the cops are looking).

But we don't mind betting that over there they are "still doing business at the same old stand" in the same old way, and that the average bookie who takes your money is just as honest and as accurate as a machine with a French name.

. . . . . .

And a dashed sight more pleasant to do business with!

HILLCREST DRAW WITH GARRISON

TIE STILL EXISTS FOR PREMIER POSITION

Tillicums, Esquimalt, Civil Service and Y.M.C.A. Win Games—The Latter Team by Default

The tie for premier honors in the Victoria and District Indoor Baseball League between the Garrison and the Hillcrests is still unbroken. After playing the full nine innings last night these teams finished up with an 8-8 score, darkness preventing any further playing. The game, which was played at Work Point, was witnessed by a good crowd, which was treated to a real game.

This is the first time these teams have met this season and as the schedule is divided into two parts it might happen that they will have to play again in the first half. A straight cut of victories for both teams will necessitate a playoff for the winners of the first part of the schedule. In last night's game the Hillcrests were leading by three runs at the end of the seventh, but a rally by the Garrison in the last two innings brought the score to a tie. Ranns, of the Hillcrests, was the best man on the field, and his catches in the field were applauded by the spectators on different occasions.

At Macauley Point Esquimalt handed the Moore-Whittington Lumber Company a 16-5 defeat in a game that was quite snappy in spots. B. Nicol, of the Dockyarders, knocked a home run in the fifth inning. The Tillicums took a trip to the Canteen Grounds and met the Naval Barracks, whom they defeated by a 22-20 score. With a lead of seven runs against them, the Naval men went to bat for the last time, but the best they could do was to score five runs.

At Central Park the Civil Service handed Priors a 17-11 defeat, this being the first victory of the Civil Service for the season. Failure of the Fifth Regiment, C.G.A., to field their team at Victoria West Park gave the Y. M. C. A. two points.

Five Years for Planning Unsuccessful Attempt On Life of His Wife

SASKATOON, May 16. — John Bronch, Radisson farmer, who was found guilty on Thursday of having attempted to procure the death of his wife, was sentenced this morning at Battleford to serve five years in the penitentiary by Mr. Justice H. Y. Macdonald. Bronch paid another man $220, with a promise of $10 when his wife had been disposed of, evidence at the trial showed.

The SPORTLIGHT by Grantland Rice

The Last Road

Tell me, O Prophet of the Hidden Mist,
When I have found the road that wanders far
Where all great rovers hold an endless tryst
That leads from world to world, from star to star,
Shall I step out, unshaking, through the dark
As I have hoped I would—to take my chance
As one who loved the blue sea might embark
For unknown ports of glory and romance?

Lights out—then darkness for a step or two
Until we find firm space on which to tread,
Seeking an exit where the light breaks through
To show the open road that waits ahead—
The music fades and dies, the last bells chime—
And some guide beckons out beyond the walls
Where the raw soul looks out upon all Time
To follow where the great adventure calls.

* * * * * *

Complications

The roads of right and wrong in sport are often hard to place. There is the mention of $750,000 as Dempsey's end for his next fight.

As this is considerably more than a President of the United States gets for eight years in office, the fantastic amount seems entirely out of proportion. It lifts the financial side to dangerous peaks. Yet if 80,000 citizens are willing to pay $1,500,000 to look upon the spectacle—with 40,000 others turned away—the $750,000 is not so far out of line.

This is where complications arise.

A $1,500,000 gate, with $750,000 for one fighter's end, is a reflection upon the intelligence of a nation.

But who is there to change the law of supply and demand where the commodity in question is in no way essential?

* * * * * *

Another Baffler

Further complications arise in sport when one stumbles over the amateur argument.

Here the tangle is terrific.

We have had many amateur champions in many sports who have contrived to make their fame pay handsome financial dividends.

In many cases the winning of a championship has added materially to the pay cheque through no effort on the part of the player. It was merely a natural result.

Drawing the line through the right spot is extremely difficult. There is often a strong case on both sides of the debate.

In reality there will always be Class A and Class B amateurs. The first for fun, health, recreation and nothing else. The second, for fun, recreation—and what they can get out of it, on the side. And the case is always strong against the player who goes from one tournament to another. That is rather overdoing sport, which is not supposed to be the main reason for existence.

Still, it is the complexities and complications that add to the spice of existence. What would travel be along only a straight and even road?

* * * * * *

The argument is no minor part of sport. It is here that most of the conflict is built, and it is here that wrath and fervor attain much greater warmth than upon the field. The man-to-man contest is usually along friendly lines. It is the spoken and written word through the aftermath that causes most of the tumult on the part of the non-combatants.

* * * * * *

The Combination

It has been whispered in the councils that it is almost impossible to be a clever boxer and a hard hitter at one and the same time.

The closest approach to both goals was Joe Gans.

Gans was a great boxer and Gans could hit. "Battling" Nelson confessed one day that when Gans hit him in the ribs he thought his entire side had been torn out.

The number who can both hit and box is extremely small. Extreme cleverness and the big smash rarely travel together.

Willing Ears Company

"What has become of the Willing Ears Company, Ltd., for golfers?" asks H. L. D.

The strain was too great on the hired Willing Listeners. They all began to strike for $5 an hour, instead of $2 an hour. They complained of too many sentences exactly alike—such as "I had a lotta hard luck," or "I should have had an 88, but I took three putts on eight greens," or "I hit a perfect shot and it landed in a trap." Four or five of our hired Willing Listeners threatened to sue the company because their nerves were shattered and twisted out of shape. Seven others had acute melancholia from hearing so many moody and morose statements of anguish, suffering, disaster and unkempt luck. Also several of our golfing clients complained that in describing their rounds they were assaulted by Willing Listeners before reaching the description of what happened on the sixteenth hole.

The Willing Ears Company, Ltd., is now making plans to train a group of Willing Listeners for the work. For the first stages of this training our listeners will be sent to hear all the hard luck stories of the racetrack, Wall Street and all available bridge games. This will provide the start, anyway.

* * * * * *

You have no idea what a rasping job it is to get listeners these days. For the average listener can hardly wait for the end of your story to leap in with "That reminds me," etc. In golf, especially, it is only your own story that counts. The other fellow's can get on your nerves in fourteen seconds or less.

TWENTY-TWO PLAY IN PUPILS' RECITAL

Piano Students of Miss Winifred Scowcroft Take Part in Delightful Programme

Twenty-two piano pupils of Miss Winifred M. Scowcroft appeared in a students' recital which was held at her home, 1034 Queen's Avenue, on Wednesday evening. An audience of seventy, which comprised parents and friends of the pupils, listened with much enjoyment to the various performers, whose musical progress was, for the most part, in direct ratio to the period during which they had been studying. Even the very youngest players were able to give the listener much pleasure, and the more advanced showed careful preparation in the more difficult compositions which they rendered. At the conclusion of the recital Miss Scowcroft served refreshments.

Those taking part were: Josephine Wong, Lloyd Vale, Elsie Matthews, Kathleen Caldwell, Miss Scowcroft, Doris Jones, Edna Matthews, Ada Borde, Marjorie Francis, Margaret Heap, Margaret Horne, Archie McAllister, Olive Maclean, Miss Mabel Francis, Viola Blakeney, Evelyn Stoddart, Mrs. Pye, Marjorie Davidson, Isabelle Stoddart, Florence Horne, Margaret Horne, Miss Ida Chue and Tom Horne.

At the Playhouses

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE This afternoon and tonight will be the last opportunities of seeing the remarkable bill which is being presented this week at the Playhouse Theatre. "Nothing But the Truth" has undoubtedly been an enormous hit, as everyone who has seen it will be only too willing to testify. There is in this wonderful comedy more laughs per minute than in any other play known to the English language, and then some, and the cast could not be improved upon. "Boston Blackie" is a host in itself, being the most popular picture yet shown at this little theatre, with a story that grips the interest and holds it tense for an hour. "Navy Blues" is well known as one of the greatest comedies ever filmed.

ROYAL THEATRE Every lover of dogs and Nature will respond to the tremendous outdoor appeal of "The Call of the Wild," the picturization of Jack London's famous novel, which is at the Royal Theatre this week. It is the first dramatic feature production of Hal Roach, who produced the Harold Lloyd and other comedies. There is tremendous punch in "The Call of the Wild," and Buck, a wonderful St. Bernard and a remarkably clever dog, supplies the most of it in his fight with a rattlesnake, a battle with one of his own kind and his famous fifty-mile run through the snow at the head of the pack. There are marvelous snow scenes, bleak wastes and wonderful silhouettes in sky line effects that are the real thing. "The Call of the Wild" is a sincere, sympathetic and intelligent picturization of the book and should be enjoyed by all lovers of Jack London's story.

CAPITOL THEATRE Another famous play appears on the screen as a Paramount-Artcraft release. Cecil B. De Mille has adapted Sir James M. Barrie's famous "The Admirable Crichton" and renamed it "Male and Female." Said to be one of the screen's most lavish productions, it will be shown at the Capitol Theatre for the last time today.

DOMINION THEATRE Sufficient light was on tap at the Universal City during the filming of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," the Universal production now playing at the Dominion Theatre to illuminate a city of over 100,000, and the current consumed during the production would supply an average small city for a year. Then huge generator plants mounted on trucks were constantly employed on the grounds. A corps of 175 electricians manned those and the other equipment used in illuminating the vast areas in which the scenes were laid. Difficulty was experienced for a time by Director Wallace Worsley and his chief cameraman, Robert Newhard, in keeping in touch with his electricians and other aides until a loud-speaking device, which carried his voice a quarter of a mile in all directions, was installed.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Popular as Charles Jones' western pictures have always been, none of them ever attracted more favorable attention than the William Fox version of the story of Ben Ames Williams, "Not a Drum Was Heard." The picture ends a three-day run at the Columbia Theatre tonight. The story of two friends in love with the same girl and living the rough life of the old West, has proved to be one of the most romantic Jones ever attempted and he has done well. A capable cast, with Betty Boulton in the principal feminine role, gives him excellent support.

TEARLE SAYS THAT LILIES IN THE FIELD HIS BEST VEHICLE

Conway Tearle, who is co-featured with Corinne Griffith in the First National production, "Lilies of the Field," which is scheduled to begin a week's engagement at the Royal Theatre on Monday, is on record to the effect that the role of Louis Willing, which he essays in this picture, is the finest ever assigned to him.

At the outset Willing is shown as a wealthy bachelor, grown cynical because of the fawning of designing women and grafting men. He has lost all faith in human nature, and is disgusted with the aimless life which he has led.

He determines to make a world tour, to break away from his past associations, and on the eve of his departure stages a large party. As the evening wears away he grows weary of the ape-like antics of his guests and goes to the library to seek seclusion from the maddening uproar. As he crossed the threshold he is surprised to find a girl eagerly reading a book.

Amazed and puzzled, he watched her for a while, for the girl obviously was out of place in such bizarre surroundings. Half an hour later Willing found a new interest in life; he had found one of the other sex who did not try to vamp him.

BRULIER WINS NOT ONLY FAME, BUT HIS HEALTH IN MOVIES

Nigel De Brulier, appearing as Jehan Daas, the aged grandfather to Jackie Coogan in Metro's "A Boy of Flanders," showing at the Capitol Theatre next week, has led a life as adventurous as that of most heroes of romantic novels.

In his early youth, De Brulier possessed a rare and exquisite tenor voice, and first attracted notice in the church choir of a small hamlet in provincial England, where he was born. He developed this gift and attained success on the operatic stage in London, Paris and elsewhere on the Continent. Then he suddenly lost his voice. In his struggle to regain the priceless possession he undermined his health. Then he went to California.

With the movies at his beck and call, he ventured in pictures and rose rapidly as a result of his splendid characterizations in Richelieu in "The Three Musketeers" with Douglas Fairbanks, the Russian mystic in "The Four Horsemen," the Prince in "Omar, the Tentmaker," the Monk in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" and more recently Litchfield Stope, grandfather of the girl in "Wild Oranges," a role somewhat similar to the one he essays in "A Boy of Flanders."

JAMES BAY METHODIST MUSIC EVENTS MANY

The musical activities of James Bay Methodist Church are very much in evidence. Renewed zeal has been imparted to the choir members by the appointment of Mr. J. W. Buckler as director. A concert will be given on May 28 by the choir, assisted by Mrs. Jesse Longfield (contralto), Mr. Frank L. Tupman (tenor), Miss Mary McFadden (elocutionist), and Mrs. Victor S. Waram (violinist). The choir part-songs to be rendered by the choir are "My Ships" (Dore); "Moonlight" (Faning); "Golden Banjoes" (Collins), "The Long Day Closes" (Sullivan); quartettes, "A Catastrophe" (Sprague); "Robin Adair," arranged by Percy Fletcher. The choir is fortunate in having that talented musician, Mr. Ira Dilworth, for accompanist. Music to be rendered at the morning service on Sunday is: Anthem, "Sweet Is Thy Mercy" (Barnby); solo, "Lead, Kindly Light" (Sanderson), Mrs. A. W. Stokes. Evening service, anthem, "The Radiant Morn" (Woodward); solo, "Like As a Hart" (F. Allitsen), Miss Evelyn Buckler.

Elk Lake Speedboat Claimed Disturbing To Bird Sanctuary

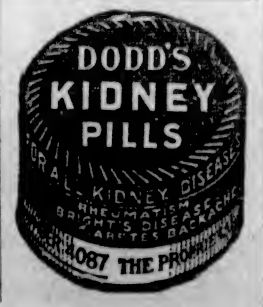

ROYAL OAK, May 16.—Much interest is being shown locally in the speed boat in course of construction at Hamsterley Lakeside, Elk Lake, by Mr. Pease. The recent protest that the noise created by motor boats on the lake would interfere with the bird sanctuary has come in the nature of a surprise to those interested and seems to signify that the tranquil waters of Elk Lake may remain undisturbed. It does not seem possible to add to any extent to the roar of traffic on the East Road, which skirts the reserve, and to which the birds seem quite accustomed. The propeller of the speed boat arrived from Seattle last week, and it is expected that the boat will be ready for the water within the week.

Crowds of bathers are daily enjoying the cool waters of the lake at present. The enlarged beaches and bathing facilities offered by Hamsterley Lakeside are apparently much appreciated by bathers.

SOCIAL ARRANGED

STRAWBERRY VALE, May 16.—At a meeting of the Church Guild of St. Columba's Church, Strawberry Vale, it was decided to hold a social evening on May 28. Home cooking, ice cream and candy stalls will be features of the affair, and Mrs. Rowlands will convene the tea arrangements.

Strawberry Vale Women's Institute will hold a special meting on May 22 at the Institute room, Roy Avenue, Colquitz, when many items of business will be laid before the members for discussion. Mrs. W. Foster, official delegate to the recent Provincial Convention, will present her report.

JURORS WARNED NOT TO READ NEWSPAPERS

Incident at Nanaimo in Corbett Trial Occasions Some Concern to Presiding Judge

NANAIMO, May 16.—The proceedings at the morning session of the Assize Court yesterday were marked by an incident rather outside the course of the case on trial. His Lordship, addressing the jury, stated he had instructed them the day before that when dismissed they were not to discuss the case with anyone, or to communicate with anyone about it. While at breakfast that morning he had got the impression that one of the jurors was reading a newspaper. If it were a local newspaper it would most likely contain a report of the proceedings of the court the day before, and for a juror to read such a report amounted to a communication. The incident had occasioned him great concern, and he now wished to ask the jurors if any one of them had read an account of yesterday's proceedings of the trial.

Juror McGirr said he had picked up a local paper but before he could even get a glance of the headlines he had been apprised of the error he was committing and he put down the paper.

His Lordship was pleased to accept the statement of the juror. Nothing derogatory was meant, but they had to see that a trial was carried on properly. On repeating his question, no other member of the jury had anything to say, and His Lordship pronounced the incident closed, adding that he was very much relieved.

Another incident arose in the application for the recall of Mrs. Simpson, one of the witnesses of the previous day, by the Crown prosecutor, Mr. A. Leighton. After some legal sparring, Mr. Leighton said the questions he wished to ask Mrs. Simpson were whether she had gone to the jail to see the accused, whether she had been spoken to by the counsel for the defence, and also he wanted to ask her to explain certain discrepancies in her evidence before the present court and her evidence on former occasions.

Mr. Cunniffe, counsel for Corbett, frankly admitted having talked to Mrs. Simpson, in order to get out certain facts at the preliminary hearing, and he maintained he had done nothing wrong.

His Lordship intervened to say there was nothing wrong in counsel for the defence meeting openly witnesses who were acquainted with the circumstances of a case to be tried.

Mr. Cunliffe said he was accompanied by the Chief of Police and there had been no tampering with witnesses.

His Lordship again interposed that there had been nothing wrong in the conduct of counsel.

Counsel for the Crown pressed for the recall of Mrs. Simpson, but His Lordship, after looking up authorities, decided to disallow the application.

ENGRAVINGS FORM INTERESTING DISPLAY

Mr. Irving Dwinnell's Collection of Etchings, Etc., at Hudson's Bay Co., Attract Much Notice

Interest in the exhibition of etchings and engravings from the private collection of Mr. Irving F. Dwinnell is growing daily, and there is no time in the afternoon when a little group of enthusiasts may not be found gathered round some one of the scores of interesting works displayed in the private dining room of the Hudson's Bay Company. Members of the Island Arts and Crafts Society are constantly in attendance and ready to give any assistance in explaining the various processes represented in this very fine collection.

The pictures are excellently arranged, according to the special process represented. The visitor is first attracted by the engravings which hang just inside the main entrance in the hall. One of the most striking things in this section is a line-engraving of Edward Lord Thurlow, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain. After the painting by Sir Joshua Reynolds, the engraver was F. Bartolozzi, one of the best-known of his period. There is rare beauty in the modelling of the features, and the amateur will be surprised at the wealth of textile, etc., that a skilled engraver can portray by the mere medium of line, lace, hair, heavy silk, brocade, skin. The whole subject is treated with dignity.

Old French Prints

In the same section are a series of profiles by William Daniell, most of the subjects being of the Georgian type and period. Two old French colored prints represent Bonnaparte.

Etchings are a very striking part of the exhibition also. One of the most dramatic of the etchers is Roy Partridge, who has two subjects of almost identical character (possibly the same subject viewed from opposite angles), "L'Ile de la Cite, Pont Neuf, Paris," and "Dancing Water." There is fine simplicity yet boldness in the treatment, and the water (as seen in the latter) is full of movement under the strong arches. At a little distance one will discover the same artist in quite a different humor, "Portrait Munchen, 1911," being so delicate in treatment as to seem almost like silver-point.

"Rue des Marmousets," etched by Maxime Lalanne, is a fine example of light and shade effects. The essence of delicacy and paucity of line is "Palais de Luxembourg" (Hornby); there is sharp contrast of light and shade in "Spring Tide," etched by Theophile Chauvel, after Diaz, the scene represented being a wood with glimpse of sunny glade beyond. The composition of this is unusual.

Notable Etching

A feeling of very soft and mellow mid-afternoon is conveyed by James D. Smillie in "The Old Road," the touch of life being given in the distant figure of a man and cattle. Legros, one of the great etchers of all time, is represented by the face of an "Aged Spaniard," of ascetic, proud, yet soft profile, a certain sharpness of line being redeemed by the exquisite delicacy of treatment. Helen Hyde is represented by one of her characteristic subjects, a Japanese woman and child leaning against rain and wind. The outlines only are in line, the between-spaces being filled in, apparently, with brush. A striking contrast is found an arm's-length away in Joseph Pennell's typical treatment of a sight familiar to men of business more than to artists: "The Stock Exchange, New York," which he has pictured with fidelity, yet with the dramatic and half-heroic touch whereby he has made many mundane things grand. His work always displays fine sureness of touch, definiteness of intention, simplicity.

Theophile Chauvel's "Sunset" is particularly effective in that it conveys the sense of fading light, glimmering landscape, the boat, water and trees being barely discernible, while the sky above is still bright.

The following members of the Arts and Crafts Society are taking turns in being in attendance at the hall: Miss Kitto, Miss Crease, Mrs. Loveland, Mrs. Haldane, Miss Lettice, Mrs. Keating, Miss Eloise Smith, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Hilda Harris, Dr. R. Harris and Dr. Rutherford.

Mrs. Haldane, Miss Lettice, Mrs. Keating, Miss Eloise Smith, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Hilda Harris, Dr. R. Harris and Dr. Rutherford.

The exhibition will be open daily, except Sundays, until the end of the month.

FRACTIONAL GAINS FEATURE STOCKS

Short Covering and Growing Investment Demands Imparts Firm Tone to New York Prices

NEW YORK, May 16.—Short covering operations apparently based on the bare possibility that President Coolidge's veto of the Soldier Bonus Bill will be sustained and the growing investment demand resulting from relatively cheap money rates imparted a firm tone to the prices in today's stock market. Net gains were largely fractional, although several popular issues closed one to nearly two points higher on the day. Trading was again relatively light in volume, the day's transactions running only slightly more than one half million shares.

High grade rails, steels, sugars and oils gave the best demonstrations of group strength. Specialties showed mixed changes, strength of Colorado Fuel and Woolworth (new stock) being contracted by the heaviness of United Fruit. Chicago Pneumatic Tool and Reynolds Tobacco (B).

Rails Develop Strength

Rail stocks developed new leaders in Atchison, and Union Pacific. Strength of Atchison was based on the possibility of a special dividend distribution at the July meeting of the directors, while Union Pacific was bought on speculative expectations of a special distribution from the extensive holdings of securities of other railroads in the Union Pacific's treasury.

Attempts to depress some of the standard industrial shares were abandoned where bear trading was covered so that floating supply of stocks was limited. United States Steel common moved within an area of one point, closing ½ higher at 97. Baldwin advanced 1 point to 108 and American Can and Studebaker improved fractionally.

Reports of a small advance in the price of navy gasoline in the Mid-Continent district was generally held to be responsible for the late rally in the oil shares.

Call money opened at 3¾ and then eased to 3, where it closed.

Time Money

The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates.

Chief interest in the foreign exchange market centred in the fluctuation of French francs, which ruled slightly above 5¾. Demand sterling held fairly steady just under $4.36½. Other currencies showed only nominal changes.

Seeking an outlet for its current plethora of funds, Wall Street turned to buying of investment railroad bonds, prices of which advanced substantially in quiet trading. Profit-taking reduced yesterday's sharp gains in Liberty bonds, and uncertainty as to whether the bonus bill veto would be sustained turned the buying movement away from this list into other sections of the market.

Coincident with reports of another Swedish loan, moderate activity developed in Swedish government bonds, which advanced a point.

GRAIN PRICES SHOW STRONGER POSITION

Bullish Sentiment Is Apparent in Wheat, and Crop Reports Are Favorable

(By British-American Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

CHICAGO, May 16.—Grain prices were higher throughout the list today. Sentiment on wheat especially has become rather bullish. Crop news favored higher prices. One expert opinion says soil conditions are not as good as they should be and that rain is needed in a large section of the Winter wheat belt. Northwestern territory is faring better. Corn seems to be losing friends gradually, although the market acted well today. The better chance on the long side seems to be in wheat, although all markets are very narrow and the day-to-day trading is on a very small scale. The movement in wheat is below that of last year, while corn is moving a little more freely both ways. The close was at the day's best.

BUSINESS LIGHT ON LONDON EXCHANGE

Despite Speeches by Industrial Leaders, Dividends Fail to Confirm Hopeful Outlook

LONDON, May 16.—Dealings on the stock exchange here continue on a small scale. Trade progress in Great Britain remains very undecided, and, despite speeches from leaders in the iron and steel industry encouraging the people to look in the near future for a better state of things, there have been dividend declarations this week which by no means confirm these hopeful outlooks.

British gilt-edged stocks continue to display a fairly firm front. The North Wales Power issue of £1,500,000, for further hydro-electrical development, was subscribed within 24 hours. One of the biggest concerns in the distillery industry declared a 10 per cent tax free dividend, which, including an interim payment of 15 per cent, makes 25 per cent for the year. In allowing for the capital bonus made by this firm a few months ago, this constitutes a new record in dividend earnings.

Grain Opinions

(Supplied by R. P. Clark & Co., Ltd.)

Harris-Winthrop: Opinions are of little value as long as there is a possibility of legislative interference.

Bartlett-Frazier: The wheat situation seems to be strengthening, but corn shows heaviness.

Stein-Alstrin: Favor the buying side of wheat on dips and sales of corn on bulges.

Riordan-Martin: Wheat appears to be firming up. Would not sell corn at these prices.

Dow Jones Averages

Forty bonds $8.49, off .02.
Twenty industrials $9.18, up .41.
Twenty rails $1.75, up .18.

TORONTO, May 16.—Authorized capital of $10,767,700 is represented by companies whose incorporations were reported to The Monetary Times during the week ended May 10, compared with 24,829,200 the previous week and with $17,260,100 the corresponding week of last year. Fire losses in Canada during the week ended May 14 are estimated at $583,700, compared with $189,350 the previous week, and with $286,000 the corresponding week of last year.

Stock Opinions

Hornblower & Weeks: Nothing has happened, nor is likely to happen, to change the evidence that has already come to light concerning the start of a broad upswing during the last six months of the year:

J. S. Bache & Co.: The outlook for an early sustained upward swing is not at all encouraging from a technical standpoint; however, the market appears to be very much oversold, particularly the popular leading issues, and we are inclined to look for a rally temporarily.

Chamberlain & Co.: Professionals may continue to depress the market, but we believe the time for accumulation of stocks is close at hand.

Noyes & Cook: There is no backlog of buying power to turn the market, and we think the only result can be declining stock market prices along with general business. We see no probability, and would sell stocks whenever they rally.

Newspaper Comment

(By British-American Bond Corpn., Ltd.)

The New York Sun says oils have acted better today because of expectation that Prairie Oil and Gas will not follow lead of Magnolia in cutting prices. There appears to be continued liquidation by the old pool in Congoleum. It is predicted that General Motors common stock, after the recapitalization, will become more of a market leader than it has been heretofore.

Telegram and Mail says: Uncertainty over the bonus bill was all that prevented an enthusiastic demonstration in today's stock market session.

Evening Post says: The buying of New Orleans, Texas & Mexico is believed to be on account of the Missouri Pacific interest. The street is inclined to believe capital adjustment in United Cigars is the forerunner of a distribution of United Cigar Stores stocks by Tobacco Products. Seems to be no other reason for change. It was suggested today that there might be a sensational move in Union Pacific.

It is rumored that there may be a resumption of dividends at the rate of $6 on Sears-Roebuck in a month or six weeks. Calls attention to the fact that Utah coppers in first quarter were 9.12 cents a pound, contrasted with 9.8 cents in last quarter.

Lowest Bid Is From Firm in Vancouver

Marine Repair Works of Vancouver Submit Lowest Tender for Repairs to Salvaged Tatjana—Tenders Range From $225,000 to $167,500—If Awarded Contract Marine Repair Works May Make Repairs at Esquimalt Drydock

THE Marine Repair Works of Vancouver yesterday submitted the lowest tender for repairs to the salvaged Norwegian freighter Tatjana, with a bid of $167,500. It was understood last night that the Vancouver firm will in all likelihood be awarded the contract by the Norwegian Veritas, the underwriters who now control the destinies of the hapless ship.

The amount of the tender, however, is not the only consideration to be observed in the letting of the contract. It is imperative, shipping men point out, that the factor of time be weighed with care. Awarding of the contract is expected today or tomorrow.

If the Marine Repair Works succeeds in landing the contract, it is thought likely that the repairs will be done at the Esquimalt drydock, and not at Vancouver.

The next lowest tender was the Albina Iron Works, of Portland, Ore., which submitted $187,000 as its figure, through its representative, Mr. William Cornfoot. Mr. Charles W. Stayton proffered a tender of $189,000 for the Willamette Iron Works, also of Portland.

As the specifications demanded that the ship, which the Pacific Salvage Company surprised the marine world by reclaiming from the grip of the Village Island reefs, should be brought back to the condition prior to the impact with the rocks, the tenderers engaged in a feverish thirty-six hours of figuring before the tenders were called at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The cost of a vast amount of diverse articles had to be computed. Not only do the specifications demand that the hull be brought back to its original condition, but such things as upholstering, electric fittings, bedclothes, linen, crockery, and even pots and pans, must be replaced as once they were.

Mr. Stayton, of the Willamette Company, who is no stranger to hard work, having even shovelled coal for long stretches, he declares, faced the most laborious work of his career when he undertook to prepare the figures for his tender, he stated yesterday afternoon before leaving for Portland.

Moore & Scott, of San Francisco, tendered the figure of $198,000 through their representative, Mr. Binton. Yarrows, Limited, of Esquimalt, are said to have tendered $225,000.

Mr. J. H. Pillsbury, superintendent of the Prince Rupert Drydock Company, refused to submit a tender. He objected to the briefness of the time allowed for the preparation of bids, requesting that the period of about thirty-six hours be extended to Monday. He left the city on Thursday night when his request was denied.

Mr. A. R. Hunt, of the Todd Drydock Co., of Seattle, and Mr. Greaney, of the Union Ironworks (the Bethlehem Steel Company, of San Francisco), left for their homes yesterday afternoon.

FORMER TRANSPORT SHIP TURNS TURTLE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—The former army transport Warren, which was sold some time ago to Chinese interests, and which has been operated along the Chinese coast, turned turtle and sank at a dock in Shanghai recently, according to word received here. The vessel was undergoing repairs at the time of the accident. She was 2,510 tons net.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are hereby notified that three large mooring buoys have been placed in Vancouver Harbor for the use of ships in the following positions:

No. 1—Two and a half cables north, true, from the northeast of the Sugar Refinery wharf.

No. 2—One thousand feet east of No. 1.

No. 3—Twelve hundred and fifty feet east of No. 2.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES DEMANDED

LUMBER FREIGHTS TO ORIENT MAY BE REDUCED

Rates Dropped a Month Ago But Further Reductions Likely—Tramps Upset Market

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Signals are out again for another reduction in transpacific freights on lumber, and a meeting of the Pacific Westbound Conference will be held in Seattle today to consider another drop in rates.

It is estimated that there is considerable lumber here that should be moved to Japan, but the combined price and freight rate will not meet the quotations on the Japanese market.

The rate dropped a month ago from $14.50 to $9.50 and $11, but further reductions are expected.

Freights on intercoastal lumber shipments improved a little yesterday and while $14 to $14.50 ruled firmly out of this port, Seattle was quoting $14.50 and $15.

Tramp space is still an unknown quantity to some extent, as a ship was quoted this week at $13.75, but confirmation could not be secured.

It is the tramp service to the Orient that has upset that market, as space can be had at a very low figure on lumber with other commodities going as a balance.

Lumber rates to the United Kingdom are firm, but only parcel shipments are moving.

ONLY LIQUOR AND TOBACCO OMITTED

Arctic Trading Schooner Has Everything Else Represented in Cargo—Only Windjammer in Trade

SEATTLE, May 16.—Supplies of all kinds except liquor and tobacco, will form part of the cargo of the Arctic trading schooner C. S. Holmes when she sails from Seattle for the Far North next week. She will go out with more than 1,000 tons for St. Lawrence Island and points along the Arctic Coast of Alaska as far north as Point Barrow. Captain John Backland owns and commands the C. S. Holmes. In early years he was a missionary and preacher.

"What am I loading?" he repeated this morning at Pier 5, the Hayden terminal, where the Holmes is now berthed. "That's easy to answer, I'm loading everything in the line of supplies and provisions with two exceptions. The exceptions are booze and tobacco."

The Holmes is believed to be the only windjammer operating in the Arctic trade, other vessels being equipped with engines. Captain Backland prefers canvas and the winds as a motive power. After using several other vessels in the Arctic trade, Captain Backland bought the C. S. Holmes in 1914, taking her to the Arctic that year. He continued her in the Arctic trade in 1915 and 1916. In 1917 he went from one extreme to the other, taking the Holmes into the South Sea and New Zealand trade out of San Francisco. He kept the vessel in the southern trade until the end of 1920.

In 1921 Captain Backland laid the Holmes up and spent the year with his family touring Europe. Returning in the fore part of 1922, he again entered the Arctic trade and has been operating it ever since.

RHEUMATISM GONE, SAYS MONTREAL HOTEL MAN

F. A. Mongeau Tells How He Recovered Strength After 8 Years of Rheumatism.

F. A. Mongeau, popular night clerk at the Prince of Wales Hotel, 17 and 19 McGill College Avenue, Montreal, Canada, lends his name to further the cause of Tanlac, the treatment that has proved of such great benefit to him.

"After all Tanlac has done for me," said Mr. Mongeau, "I just feel like praising it to everybody. Eight years of muscular rheumatism had just about made a cripple of me. I got to where I simply had to limp around on a cane. My nerves became affected, my sleep unsound and I felt completely knocked out.

"Six bottles of Tanlac, taken eight months ago, made a new man of me and I have had no further trouble with rheumatism, or my health since. My nerves are steady as a die, I sleep fine and feel the same way. Anyone wanting to know of me what Tanlac will do, just phone me here at the hotel."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Heavy Seas Break Stranded Steamship

Steamer G. C. Lindauer Broken by Waves While Ashore Near Oregon Port—Pacific Steamship Company's Vessel Admiral Nicholson Also Goes Aground on Mission of Rescue—In Danger of Breaking Up, Too

REEDSPORT, Ore., May 16.—Heavy seas broke the back of the steamer G. C. Lindauer, aground off this port, tonight. The entire crew was taken off by Government coastguard men and brought here. Preparations were begun to take off the crew from the Admiral Nicholson, and it was apparent that she, too, would be a total loss.

REEDSPORT, Ore., May 16.—The steamer G. C. Lindauer, which went on the jetty while passing out of this port today, lumber laden for San Francisco, and the steamer Admiral Nicholson, which also grounded while trying to assist the Lindauer, were still hard and fast tonight. The Lindauer's crew had been removed by Government coastguard men. The Nicholson's crew still was aboard.

The Admiral Nicholson was en route to Bandon from Portland, by way of other Oregon ports. She is owned by the Pacific Steamship Company, but is under time charter to a Portland concern.

CAT'S MEOWS SAVE PASSENGER'S LIFE

DRIVE WOMAN FROM STATEROOM BEFORE COLLISION

Watches Dancing in Saloon When Vessel's Bow Crushes Through Woodwork in Cabin

NEW YORK, May 17.—The persistent meowing of a ship cat saved her life when the Royal Mail Steam Packet Orca was rammed by the Norwegian freighter Porsenger in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Mrs. Raymond Franzer, of San Francisco, related when the Orca docked here.

The steamship arrived with dented plates testifying to the severity of the crash last Friday in a fog. The fact that none of the stateroom passengers were in their cabins at the time of the crash saved many lives, officers of the ship said.

Mrs. Franzer, the wife of a California university psychologist, said she was reading in her cabin just before the collision. Suddenly the cat took up a position before her door, meowing insistently and would not be driven away.

This so annoyed Mrs. Franzer that she went to the lounge to watch the dancers. In a few minutes the Porsenger rammed the Orca, and the woodwork in her cabin was demolished.

Passengers blamed the Norwegian for the crash, and praised the Orca's crew. Captain Mathews, it was said, signalled the Porsenger that she had the right of way, and stopped the Orca's engines, but the freighter made directly toward the Orca.

JAPANESE LINES ASK FOR MORE SUBSIDIES

Osaka Shosen Kaisha Line Petitions Japanese Government for Increased Aid

The agitation among the Japanese subsidized lines for an increase in the navigation subsidy granted by the Government, has been made more acute by the gradual loss of transpacific trade by Japanese lines in competition with the superior foreign ships.

The Osaka Shosen Kaisha is reported to have petitioned the Government for an increase in the subsidy granted for their South American service in order to carry out improvements to facilitate competition in South American trade.

The ships of this line at present take ten weeks to reach Brazil from Yokohama as against three weeks from Europe, and Japanese merchants complain that this difference of this srvie in thirWDabitaoin aoi their endeavor to recapture the South American trade they are fast losing to Germany.

Large numbers of emigrants are also carried to Brazil by the ships of this line, and they emphasize the importance of this service in their plea for assistance.

The company proposes, if the Government accede to their request, to increase the number of trips and to reduce the sailing time to four weeks, and to add three motor vessels to their present fleet.

The Time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any time, add 18.5 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

SWEDEN POSSESSES MOST MOTOR SHIPS

Sweden now has the largest fleet of merchant motor ships in the world, as a result of the motorising of the nation's merchant marine, which has been going on during the past decade, and at the same time involving a rapid decrease of sail tonnage.

According to the latest statistics compiled, Sweden's merchant marine at the beginning of the present year consisted of 2,989 registered vessels, exclusive of tugs, aggregating 1,231,762 gross tons. Of this number 929 are power vessels, which vary in size downward from the larger seagoing motor ships of the Johnson Line and the Graengsberg Mining Company, which are listed as of 9,400 tons dead weight. Swedish power vessels now average 250 tons gross in size.

Along the Waterfront

The coastwise freighter Skagway sailed for California ports yesterday afternoon, after loading 500,000 feet of lumber from the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company.

The Princess Victoria was hauled out on the marine ways at Yarrows' Limited, yesterday afternoon for cleaning and painting. It is expected that she will be refloated this evening.

Two Canadian Government Merchant Marine vessels, the Canadian Transporter, from the United Kingdom, and the Canadian Seigneur from Shanghai, are due to dock here with large cargoes on May 24. The Canadian Planter is en route from Montreal with a capacity cargo for Victoria and Vancouver in the new C.G.M.M. intercoastal service. She is due here on June 13.

Yarrows, Limited, effected repairs to the propellers of the Princess Charlotte while the vessel was lying beside the Canadian Pacific pier in the Inner Harbor yesterday.

The Admiral liner Dorothy Alexander sailed for California ports from the Rithet Consolidated piers at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Twenty-five passengers joined the ship here.
